Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for your email of 14 August requesting the following information:

My father [REDACTED]'s Army records are being held at the MOD under restricted/not for disclosure and I would like to know what category his files are being held under, and what is the reason for records being not for disclosure.

I am treating your correspondence as a request for information under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA).

Our records show that a copy of [REDACTED]'s Army service record was released in full in 2012 in response to a request submitted in accordance with the guidance provided at the link below:

<https://www.gov.uk/requests-for-personal-data-and-service-records#service-records-of-deceased-service-personnel>

If you are not satisfied with this response or you wish to complain about any aspect of the handling of your request, then you should contact me in the first instance. If informal resolution is not possible and you are still dissatisfied then you may apply for an independent internal review by contacting the Information Rights Team, 1st Floor, MOD Main Building, Whitehall, SW1A 2HB (e-mail CIO-FOI-IR@mod.uk). Please note that any request for an internal review must be made within 40 working days of the date on which the attempt to reach informal resolution has come to an end.

If you remain dissatisfied following an internal review, you may take your complaint to the Information Commissioner under the provisions of Section 50 of the Freedom of Information Act. Please note that the Information Commissioner will not investigate your case until the MOD internal review process has been completed. Further details of the role and powers of the Information Commissioner can be found on the Commissioner's website, <http://www.ico.gov.uk>.

Yours sincerely
