Dear [REDACTED]

I am writing in response to your request for information regarding the below received on 20 February 2015. Your request has been handled under Section 1(1) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000. In accordance with Section 1(1)(a) of the Act I hereby confirm that the CNC/CNPA does not hold information of the type specified. There have been zero reports of misuse of PNC.

This is a request for information under the Freedom of Information Act. My request relates to the misuse of the Police National Computer (PNC). I would like the following information:

- I. The number of allegations of PNC misuse recorded against police officers for 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014 and for 2015.

For each allegation, I would like the following information:

- I. The year the allegation was recorded
- I. A description of the allegation. For instance, "Neglect or failure in duty", "Improper disclosure of information", "Corrupt practice"
- I. The ranking of the police officer involved
- I. Whether the police officer was arrested for the misuse
- I. Whether the police officer was suspended for the misuse
- I. The result of the investigation into PNC misuse
- I. The action taken following the investigation into PNC misuse

And whether formal action followed the investigation. For instance, "Dismissal without notice", "First written warning", "Final written warning"

The Civil Nuclear Constabulary is a specialist armed police service dedicated to the civil nuclear industry, with Operational Policing Units based at 11 civil nuclear sites in England, Scotland and Wales and over 1400 police officers and staff. The Constabulary headquarters is at Culham in Oxfordshire. The civil nuclear industry forms part of the UK's critical national infrastructure and the role of the Constabulary contribute to the overall framework of national security.

The purpose of the Constabulary is to protect licensed civil nuclear sites and to safeguard nuclear material in transit. The Constabulary works in partnership with the appropriate Home Office Police Force or Police Scotland at each site. Policing services required at each site are agreed with nuclear operators in accordance with the Nuclear Industries Security Regulations 2003 and ratified by the UK regulator, the Office for Nuclear Regulation (ONR). Armed policing services are required at most civil nuclear sites in the United Kingdom. The majority of officers in the Constabulary are Authorised Firearms Officers.

The Constabulary is recognised by the Association of Chief Police Officers of England, Wales and Northern Ireland (ACPO) and the Association of Chief Police Officers in Scotland (ACPOS). Through the National Coordinated Policing Protocol, the Constabulary has established memorandums of understanding with the local police forces at all 11 Operational Policing Units. Mutual support and assistance enable the Constabulary to maintain focus on its core role.

We take our responsibilities under the Freedom of Information Act seriously but, if you feel your request has not been properly handled or you are otherwise dissatisfied with the outcome of your request, you have the right to complain.
