Secondary Schools:

School Name	Distance from UTC (miles)	School Type	Capacity	%5A*-C inc Eng and Maths 2013 (provisional)	Ofsted	Impact Rating
Northumberland Park Community School	0.2	Community School	1,050	50%	Good	High This school may lose some students to the UTC as it is very close to the UTC site (0.2 miles) and has below average GCSE results. However, it has a Good Ofsted rating, low surplus places, no sixth form (therefore limited age-range crossover) and there is a steep rise in the secondary school population in the local authority (Haringey) up to 2017/18 (19.1%). The UTC is unlikely to affect the long term viability of this school.

Haringey Sixth Form Centre	Academy 16-19 Converter	967	96.3%	594.1	Not yet inspected	Moderate This college may lose some students to the UTC as it is close to the UTC site (0.4 miles), has below average results and is rated Satisfactory by Ofsted. Nevertheless, the college's results have been steadily improving over the last few years (average point score per student at level 3 was 582.9 in 2010), the age ranges of the two institutions only partially overlap and the UTC has a specialist curriculum offer. Therefore the UTC is unlikely to affect the long term viability of this college.

Harris Tottenham Free School	1.1	All-through school (4-19) – specialising in Maths and Enterprise	1570	N/A (pipeline)	N/A (pipeline)	Moderate The UTC may have some impact on this school’s recruitment due to their proximity. There is some age-range crossover and there may be some similarities between the UTC and the ‘enterprise’ element of the school’s curriculum. However, Harris is a strong brand and the majority of students at this school will not be within the UTC’s age range. Combined with the growing secondary school population we conclude that the UTC is unlikely to affect the long term viability of this school.

¹ Hackney UTC has been included as it is new 14-19 provision and the sub-regional catchment areas of the two UTCs overlap.
