

SWIS historical data

In the historic data there are a few key points that should be kept in mind when using this data

- Units are the same as in DATEXII this is sometimes different to the SWIS website, please see the mapping table
- The ESS has a separate file for each day
- The Created date is the time that the record was available for display on the SWIS website.