This page gives background information on fingerprinting and the powers used to carry it out when this is required.

Criminal casework staff must familiarise themselves with chapter 24 of the enforcement instructions and guidance on fingerprinting, see related link: 24 Fingerprinting. Taking fingerprints. Powers.

Section 141 of the Immigration and Asylum Act 1999, which came into force on 11 December 2000, gives power to take fingerprints in immigration cases from the following people:

- Any person who fails to produce a valid passport with photograph or some other document, satisfactorily establishing their identity and nationality and citizenship, when required to do so by a Border Force officer, on their arrival in the UK.
- Any person who has been refused leave to enter the UK but granted temporary admission under paragraph 21 of Schedule 2 to the Immigration Act 1971, if a Border Force officer reasonably suspects they might break any condition imposed on them relating to residence as to reporting to the police or a Border Force officer.
- Any person in respect of whom a relevant immigration decision has been made.
 Information on what constitutes a 'relevant immigration decision' can be found in section 82(2) of the Nationality, Immigration and Asylum Act 2002 and chapter 24 of the enforcement instructions and guidance (see related link: 24 Fingerprinting. Taking fingerprints. Powers).
- An individual who has been arrested under paragraph 17 of Schedule 2 to the Immigration Act 1971. To access the act, see related links.
- An individual who has made a claim for asylum.
- An individual who is the dependant of someone who falls into one of the above categories.

Procedure for CC case owners to follow
Destruction of fingerprint records

This page tells you the procedure criminal casework (CC) case owners must follow when requesting fingerprints to be taken by either CC prison operations and removals team (CC PORT) or an immigration compliance and engagement (ICE) team.

In cases where a deportation order (DO) or removal directions (RDs) have been served, case owners must make sure that fingerprints have been taken. If not, CC case owners must request CC PORT staff or the local ICE team (formerly known as a local immigration team (LIT)) take the fingerprints of the foreign national offender (FNQ) in question.

Also, if the fingerprints are more than five years old, the CC case owner must request the FNO be re-fingerprinted. All requests must be made on the ETD interview request form, ICD.4266 (which can be found on document generator on CID), using the comments box and sent to the CCT referrals inbox using related links.
