

10.8 Mr [REDACTED] confirmed that the [REDACTED] would continue to assist the Sri Lankan police with targeted specialist training, mainly conducted in the [REDACTED]. He was fully aware of the training given by [REDACTED].

10.9 I saw [REDACTED]. She informed me that over 12 months ago [REDACTED] had been asked by the Sri Lankan police to assist with the "civilianisation" of the police and in particular with professionalism, crime management, and attitudes within the police. A [REDACTED] police team visited the country and subsequently provided a report, which she described as not very far-reaching. Before that report had been completed, the [REDACTED] received an additional request from the Sri Lankan police to carry out a review of the whole force.

10.10 The report based on the original request was passed to the Government of Sri Lanka but the [REDACTED] had received no response. They do not intend to pursue the second request until a response to that report is received.

11.0 Conclusion.

11.1 I am grateful to [REDACTED], at the British High Commission for her assistance and hospitality, and to her colleague [REDACTED] for his assistance and support.

11.2 I am grateful also to the then Acting Inspector General of Police, Senior Deputy Inspector General [REDACTED] and to Deputy Inspector General [REDACTED], for their interest and the personal time they devoted to my visit and to all the police officers for their patience in dealing with my many questions and their considered response. I was impressed by the openness of the discussions and by the obvious desire, particularly of the senior officers, for the Sri Lankan Police to develop as a modern policing organisation.
