ORDER under the Companies Act 2006

In the matter of application

No. 1285 by DUNCAN TAYLOR SCOTCH WHISKY LIMITED

For a change of company name of registration

No. 10245670

DECISION

The company name DUNCAN TAYLOR SCOTCH WHISKEY LIMITED has been registered since 22 June 2016 under number 10245670.

By an application filed on 2 September 2016, DUNCAN TAYLOR SCOTCH WHISKY LIMITED applied for a change of name of this registration under the provisions of section 69(1) of the Companies Act 2006 (the Act).

A copy of this application was sent to the primary respondent's registered office on 14 October 2016 in accordance with rule 3(2) of the Company Names Adjudicator Rules 2008. The copy of the application was sent by Royal Mail special delivery. On the same date, the Tribunal wrote to Mr Tofikuddin Ovaysi (the respondent's Director) to inform him that the applicant had requested that he be joined to the proceedings. Both letters were returned stating that the addressees had gone away. The letters were re-issued by standard mail. No replies were received to either of the letters. On 5 December 2016, Mr Tofikuddin Ovaysi was joined as a co-respondent and the parties were advised that no defence had been received to the application and so the adjudicator may treat the application as not being opposed. The parties were granted a period of 14 days to request a hearing in relation to this matter, if they so wished. Both letters (to the respondent and Mr Ovaysi) were returned stating that the letter was refused. The applicant responded by confirming that it would not require a hearing and requesting a decision on the basis of the papers filed.

The primary respondent did not file a defence within the one month period specified by the adjudicator under rule 3(3). Rule 3(4) states

“The primary respondent, before the end of that period, shall file a counter-statement on the appropriate form, otherwise the adjudicator may treat it as not opposing the application and may make an order under section 73(1).”

Under the provisions of this rule, the adjudicator may exercise discretion so as to treat the respondent as opposing the application. In this case I can see no reason to exercise such discretion and, therefore, decline to do so.

As the primary respondent has not responded to the allegations made, it is treated as not opposing the application. Therefore, in accordance with section 73(1) of the Act I make the following order:

- (a) DUNCAN TAYLOR SCOTCH WHISKEY LIMITED shall change its name within one month of the date of this order to one that is not an offending nameⁱ;
- (b) DUNCAN TAYLOR SCOTCH WHISKEY LIMITED and Mr Tofikuddin Ovaysi shall:
 - (i) take such steps as are within their power to make, or facilitate the making, of that change;
 - (ii) not to cause or permit any steps to be taken calculated to result in another company being registered with a name that is an offending name.

In accordance with s.73(3) of the Act, this order may be enforced in the same way as an order of the High Court or, in Scotland, the Court of Session.

In any event, if no such change is made within one month of the date of these orders, I will determine a new company name as per section 73(4) of the Act and will give notice of that change under section 73(5) of the Act.

All respondents, including individual co-respondents, have a legal duty under Section 73(1)(b)(ii) of the Companies Act 2006 not to cause or permit any steps to be taken calculated to result in another company being registered with an offending name; this includes the current company. Non-compliance may result in an action being brought for contempt of court and may result in a custodial sentence.

Duncan Taylor Scotch Whisky Limited did not request its costs in its statement of case. As such, and in line with paragraph 10.4 of the Tribunal's Practice Direction, I make no award of costs in its favour.

Any notice of appeal against this decision to order a change of name must be given within one month of the date of this order. Appeal is to the High Court in England, Wales and Northern Ireland and to the Court of Session in Scotland.

The company adjudicator must be advised if an appeal is lodged, so that implementation of the order is suspended.

Dated this 13TH day of April 2017

Oliver Morris
Company Names Adjudicator

ⁱAn “offending name” means a name that, by reason of its similarity to the name associated with the applicant in which he claims goodwill, would be likely to be the subject of a direction under section 67 (power of Secretary of State to direct change of name), or to give rise to a further application under section 69.
