

FOI Release
Information released under the Freedom of Information Act

Title: Article from Patent Office Examining Staff Magazine

Date of release: 22 May 2017

Information request:

I have found a reference to an article by HW Clarke "Committees before Banks" in the March 1970 (p 18-31) of the Patent Office Examining Staff Magazine. I cannot find any external library that holds the magazine and when I spoke to the British Library they were not aware of it. I was wondering if the IPO still has copies and, if so, would it be possible to have a copy of the article mentioned above?

Information released:

Please find attached a copy of the article you requested.

P.S.

The supply of information in response to a freedom of information request does not confer an automatic right to re-use the information. Under UK copyright law you can use any information supplied for the purposes of private study and non-commercial research without requiring permission. Similarly, information supplied can also be re-used for the purposes of news reporting. An exception to this is photographs.

For other forms of re-use, for example publishing the information, you would need the permission of the organisation or person who owns the copyright. In the case of information produced by government departments and agencies you can re-use the information under the Open Government Licence. For information about this please see <http://www.nationalarchives.gov.uk/doc/open-government-licence/open-government-licence.htm> .

If, however, the copyright is identified as belonging to somebody else, you will need to apply for permission. For information about how to obtain permission from a third party, please go to Intellectual Property Office's website.
