You requested the following information:

Under the Freedom of Information Act, I would like details of the number of business class flights taken by staff from the Department since January 2017, and the total cost of these flights.

We have handled your request under the Freedom of Information Act 2000.

The number of business class flights taken by staff since January 2017 is 5 return flights at a total cost of £18,193. The Wales Office policy on flights is that Economy Class should be used as standard by all staff. When accompanying Ministers on official trips, Business Class may be used with approval from the Director.
