Ref. 2018/7245

[REDACTED]

21 June 2018

Dear [REDACTED],

Thank you for your e-mail of 31 May 2018 about Advanced Mission Extension Devices. You have requested the following information:

"Do RAF combat pilots use the "Advanced Mission Extender Device" (www.omnimedicalsys.com/uploads/AMXDmaxPresentation.pdf) or what is the RAF equivalent of such a device? Which company does the RAF purchase such equipment from?"

I am treating your correspondence as a request for information under the Freedom of Information Act 2000. A search for the information has now been completed within the Ministry of Defence, and I can confirm that some information in scope of your request is held.

RAF fast jet combat aircrew use the commercially available "Travel John" which can be used by any sex.

If you have any queries regarding the content of this letter, please contact this office in the first instance.

If you wish to complain about the handling of your request, or the content of this response, you can request an independent internal review by contacting the Information Rights Compliance team, Ground Floor, MOD Main Building, Whitehall, SW1A 2HB (e-mail CIO-FOI-IR@mod.gov.uk). Please note that any request for an internal review should be made within 40 working days of the date of this response.

If you remain dissatisfied following an internal review, you may raise your complaint directly to the Information Commissioner under the provisions of Section 50 of the Freedom of Information Act. Please note that the Information Commissioner will not normally investigate your case until the MOD internal review process has been completed. The Information Commissioner can be contacted at: Information Commissioner's Office, Wycliffe House, Water Lane, Wilmslow, Cheshire, SK9 5AF. Further details of the role and powers of the Information Commissioner can be found on the Commissioner's website at <https://ico.org.uk/>.

Yours sincerely

Secretariat 3a1
