Introduction

This document provides a non-exhaustive list of questions and answers, which we hope will assist advocates, chambers and solicitors' firms following the implementation (and subsequent amendment) of the reformed Advocates' Graduated Fee Scheme (AGFS).

Any queries in relation to the reformed AGFS (either "Scheme 10" or "Scheme 11") should be directed to servicedevelopment@justice.gov.uk to assist us to update this document, and the Crown Court Fee Guidance where necessary. This is a living document and will be updated periodically when questions are received.

The Ministry of Justice (MoJ) consulted upon a reformed AGFS between 5 January and 2 March 2017. The MoJ published its response to the consultation 23 February 2018, signaling its intention to pursue a reformed scheme.

The reformed fee scheme (referred to operationally as Scheme 10) came into force on 1 April 2018. Since then, further changes to the reformed AGFS were made and an amended AGFS (Scheme 11) was implemented on 31 December 2018. For full details, please read the further consultation and response to consultation.

The changes mean that Crown Court cases with a representation order dated on or after 31 December 2018 will be paid according to Scheme 11, and cases with a representation order dated between 1 April 2018 and 30 December 2018 will be paid according to Scheme 10. Cases with a representation order dated before 1 April 2018 will be subject to the provisions of earlier fee schemes.

The statutory instruments for Scheme 10 and 11 are: The Criminal Legal Aid \(Remuneration\) \(Amendment\) Regulations 2018, and Criminal Legal Aid \(Remuneration\) \(Amendment\) \(No.2\) Regulations 2018.

A revised version of the Crown Court Fee Guidance and AGFS calculator, which incorporate the Scheme 11 changes, have also been published. The Crown Court Fee Guidance may provide a more comprehensive answer to some of the answers provided in this document below. We will continue to engage with the representative bodies to improve our guidance where possible.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)

1. What changes have been made to the classification of offences under the AGFS?

Answer – The reformed AGFS has changed the former A-K classification of offences. From 1 April 2018, offences have been banded in accordance with the Ministry of Justice policy document Banding of offences in the Advocates' Graduated Fee Scheme. Offences were classified under Scheme 9 (cases with a representation order dated between 1 April 2013 and 31 March 2018) in 11 classes of offence between A-K. For cases with a representation order dated on or after 1 April 2018, there are 48 bandings of offence, organised into 17 high level category descriptions.

For cases with a representation order dated between 1 April 2018 - 30 December 2018, version 1.1 of the Banding of Offences in the Advocates' Graduated Fee Scheme document will apply.

Version 1.2 of the document will apply to cases with a representation order dated on or after 31 December 2018, and this version moves a number of offences into different bandings, including:

- S.20 cases from banding 3.5 into 3.4; and moving more than thirty offences from Band 17.1 to higher bandings within the scheme.

2. What are the evidential requirements for bandings under the AGFS from 1 April 2018?

Answer – Offences are banded but some of the bandings are dependent upon case specific facts outlined in Table A of the banding document. Appendix M of the Crown Court Fee Guidance should be referred to. The best evidence for the value of fraud or property damage, the weight of drugs and the seriousness of the offence will be the indictment. The next best source will usually be the prosecution case summary or witness statements. Advocates must submit supporting evidence to support the band of offence being claimed.

3. Are standard appearances and the PTPH still remunerated as part of the basic fee?

Answer – No. Under scheme 9, the first four standard appearances in a case and the PTPH (formerly the PCMH) were included or 'bundled' into the basic fee component of the graduated fee. Standard appearances and the PTPH are remunerated separately as fixed fees for cases with a representation order dated on or after 1 April 2018. Advocates should ensure that they appropriately claim for all such hearings. The applicable fixed fee rate for standard appearances and PTPHs are in the table at paragraph 24 of The Criminal Legal Aid \(Remuneration\) \(Amendment\) Regulations 2018 or if the case representation order is dated on or after 31 December 2018, the paragraph 24 amendments of the Criminal Legal Aid \(Remuneration\) \(Amendment\) \(No.2\) Regulations 2018. These fees are dependent upon the type of advocate.

Note that the PTPH fee is not payable for Guilty Plea cases where the plea is entered at the PTPH. For these cases, the graduated fee for a Guilty Plea case is payable only.

4. Are the first two days of trial still remunerated as part of the basic fee?

Answer – The first day of trial is included in the basic fee for a Trial. The second and subsequent days of trial are remunerated separately as Daily Attendance Fees.

5. Do daily attendance fees reduce where a trial lasts over 40 days?

Answer – No. For cases with a representation order dated on or after 1 April 2018, the daily attendance fee is remunerated at the same rate after 40 days at trial as days 2-39.

6. Are PPE and the number of witnesses still used as part of the calculation of the graduated fee?

Answer – PPE and witness uplifts no longer form part of the calculation for the graduated fee for trials with a representation order dated on or after 1 April 2018. The calculation for graduated fees under Scheme 10 and 11 is simply: Graduated Fee = Basic Fee + (Number of days at trial x Daily Attendance Fee).

7. What are the rules around conferences and views?

Answer – The rules under paragraph 19, Schedule 1 of The Criminal Legal Aid (Remuneration) Regulations 2013 have not been amended, except for the hourly rate which slightly increased. So, the first three conferences and views continue to be included in the basic fee.

8. Under scheme 9, a barrister would qualify for an uplift in relation to any additional case or for representing an additional defendant. Is this still the case?

Answer – Yes. The uplift of 20% still applies to each additional defendant or case in the same manner as Scheme 9. Paragraph 27 of the Remuneration Regulations has been amended accordingly.

9. Do discontinuances still attract 50% of the Guilty Plea basic fee?

Answer – Yes. Discontinuances, as per scheme 9, will still attract a payment of 50% of the guilty plea fee where the proceedings are discontinued at any time before the prosecution serves its evidence.

10. Have any rules changed in relation to retrials?

Answer – No. The rules in relation to retrials or ‘new trials’ have not changed when compared to scheme 9. The same percentage reductions apply to the new trial, or the first trial if the advocate so elects.

11. Can a substitute advocate submit a separate claim for payment?

Answer – No. As per scheme 9, it is the ‘Trial Advocate’ who submits the claim for payment to the LAA.

12. How do I submit a claim under scheme 10 or 11?

Answer – Since 31 October 2017, use of Claim for Crown Court Defence (CCD) has been mandatory for advocates and litigators claiming for work under the AGFS and LGFS respectively. Please refer to the CCD FAQ and User Guide.

13. Will a paper AF1 form still be available?

Answer – CCD will be mandatory for all AGFS claims. Paper claim forms are available for contingency purposes only.

14. What are the revised rules for Special Preparation?

Answer – The PPE threshold for advocates claiming Special Preparation will remain 10,000 PPE for most cases. The revised threshold under Scheme 10 and 11 for dishonesty offences banded between 6.1-6.5 will be 30,000 PPE. The revised threshold under Scheme 10 and 11 for drugs cases banded between 9.1-9.7 will be 15,000 PPE. The criteria for ‘Special Preparation’ had changed under Scheme 10 by removal of the words ‘very unusual’. This term has been reinstated in Scheme 11 so that Special Preparation claims can, for cases with a representation order dated on or after 31 December 2018, also be made for cases involving a very unusual or novel point of law or factual issue.

Claims for Special Preparation must be included together with the main graduated fee claim.

15. What new fixed fees have been introduced since 1 April 2018?

Answer – Fixed fees have been introduced for Plea and Trial Preparation Hearings (PTPH), Further Case Management Hearings (FCMH), Ground Rules Hearings (GRH) and a Sentencing Hearing fixed fee has been re-introduced. The applicable rates can be located at paragraph 24 of The Criminal Legal Aid \(Remuneration\) \(Amendment\) Regulations 2018 for Scheme 10 cases, or the Criminal Legal Aid \(Remuneration\) \(Amendment\) \(No.2\) 2018 for Scheme 11 cases.

16. Have the definitions of Guilty Plea, Cracked Trial and Trial changed?

Answer – The definitions of a Guilty Plea and Cracked Trial remain the same as Scheme 9. Under Scheme 10 and 11, where a case ‘cracks’ in the first and second third (of the period between the PTPH and the date the trial is listed for trial) the case will attract a basic fee which is 50% of the trial basic fee for that banding of offence. Where a case ‘cracks’ in the final third, the applicable fee will be 85% of the Trial basic fee for that banding of offence.

17. How do I claim for an offence which does not appear on the ‘Banding of offences’ in the Advocates’ Graduated Fee Scheme’?

Answer – Under Scheme 10 and 11, where an indictable offence is not specifically listed in the banding document, the case will be deemed to fall within band 17.1. The advocate can, however, apply to the LAA to have the case re-banded in much the same way as a reclassification of offence under Scheme 9. This can be submitted alongside the original claim.

18. Are there any changes being made to how I can claim for travel disbursements?

Answer – No changes have been made to the way in which advocates claim for travel disbursements.

19. Does the Elected Not Proceeded (ENP) Fixed Fee still apply?

Answer – The ENP still applies. However, in certain circumstances, including where the prosecution makes a substantive change to the indictment post-election, a graduated fee may be applicable. Please refer to paragraph 14 of The Criminal Legal Aid \(Remuneration\) \(Amendment\) Regulations 2018 for further details. The Criminal Legal Aid \(Remuneration\) \(Amendment\) \(No.2\) Regulations 2018 provides further clarity by re-wording the regulation.

Any claim for ENP cases where an exception applies should be accompanied with evidence in support.

20. Has there been any change to ineffective trial payments?

Answer – No change has been made to the circumstances in which this fee is applicable but the fixed fee rates have been changed and these are in the table at Paragraph 24 of the amended regulations. While there have not been any policy changes to the ineffective trial fees, the Crown Court Fee Guidance has been updated at paragraph 2.16 to clarify how the LAA will assess these claims.

Case Examples

Below is a non-exhaustive list of comparative examples between AGFS Scheme 9, AGFS Scheme 10 and Scheme 11. The examples are for illustrative purposes only and are based upon the examples originally provided in the MoJ's January 2017 consultation document, Reforming the Advocates' Graduated Fee Scheme.
