JUDGMENT OF THE EMPLOYMENT TRIBUNAL

The Judgment of the Employment Tribunal is that the respondent shall pay to the claimant the sum of £2,700 (Two Thousand, Seven Hundred Pounds) under deduction of the amount of income tax and national insurance as may be due in respect of her entitlement to holiday pay whilst in the employment of the respondent.

20

REASONS

1. In this case, the claimant presented a claim for holiday pay. The respondent disputed the amount sought.

25

2. In the course of the hearing a discussion ensued between the parties and it was agreed that the respondent would pay the sum of £2,700 under deduction of tax and national insurance as may be due in full and final settlement of the claim. It was agreed a Judgment of consent would be issued in respect of that settlement. It was also agreed that a reference which had been provided by the respondent for the claimant might be adjusted by the respondent but no order is made in that respect.
