Respondent: No attendance

JUDGMENT ON REMEDY

The respondent is ordered to pay to the claimant the sum of £262.02 in respect of the claimant's claim for unauthorised deduction of wages.

REASONS

- 1 The claimant has failed to attend today's remedy hearing. A default judgment was entered in favour of the claimant on 29 March 2018 and the claimant was provided with details of the remedy hearing in the body of the default judgment. The claimant has sent to the Tribunal a schedule of remedy, in accordance with the requirements set out in the default judgment, and therefore I am satisfied that the claimant knew about today's hearing and has chosen not to attend without giving any explanation or good reason to the Tribunal.
- 2 I note that Employment Judge Johnson has reconsidered the default judgment and the claim for unfair dismissal has been dismissed.
- 3 From the pleadings and the schedule of remedy it is possible for me to ascertain the amount of the wages which were underpaid to the claimant between May 2017 and December 2017 and the award of £262.02 is made in respect of that period of underpayment.

- 4 As the claimant does not have a valid claim for unfair dismissal, I have not made an award in respect of this claim.
- 5 It is not possible to ascertain from the information provided by the claimant the amount to be awarded in respect of holiday pay and this is subject to a separate order.
