The Armed Forces Covenant

An Enduring Covenant Between

The People of the United Kingdom

Her Majesty's Government

and

All those who serve or have served in the Armed Forces of the Crown

And their Families

The first duty of Government is the defence of the realm. Our Armed Forces fulfil that responsibility on behalf of the Government, sacrificing some civilian freedoms, facing danger and, sometimes, suffering serious injury or death as a result of their duty. Families also play a vital role in supporting the operational effectiveness of our Armed Forces. In return, the whole nation has a moral obligation to the members of the Naval Service, the Army and the Royal Air Force, together with their families. They deserve our respect and support, and fair treatment.

Those who serve in the Armed Forces, whether Regular or Reserve, those who have served in the past, and their families, should face no disadvantage compared to other citizens in the provision of public and commercial services. Special consideration is appropriate in some cases, especially for those who have given most such as the injured and the bereaved.

This obligation involves the whole of society: it includes voluntary and charitable bodies, private organisations, and the actions of individuals in supporting the Armed Forces. Recognising those who have performed military duty unites the country and demonstrates the value of their contribution. This has no greater expression than in upholding this Covenant.

Section 1: Principles of the Armed Forces Covenant

1.1 We CLCA will endeavour in our business dealings to uphold the key principles of the Armed Forces Covenant, which are:

- No member of the Armed Forces Community should face disadvantage in the provision of public and commercial services compared to any other citizen;
- In some circumstances special treatment may be appropriate especially for the injured or bereaved.

Section 2: Demonstrating our Commitment

2.1 CLCA recognises the value serving personnel, reservists, veterans and military families bring to our business. We will seek to uphold the principles of the Armed Forces Covenant, by:

- Promoting the fact that we are an Armed Forces-friendly organisation;
- Striving to support the employment of Service spouses and partners;
- Endeavouring to offer a degree of flexibility in granting leave for Service spouses and partners before, during and after a partner's deployment;
- Seeking to support our employees who choose to be members of the Reserve Forces, including by accommodating their training and deployment where possible;
- Aiming to actively promote Armed Forces Day events held locally through or social media platforms;

Our Mission

CLCA provides home-based healthcare to adults and children with complex care needs and significant health conditions, long-term illnesses or disabilities.

Our Approach

Is to develop a culture that welcomes, values and utilises human differences and similarities at all levels of the organisation. We are committed to working for equality and fairness for all, both in employment and service delivery.

- In our support of the Armed Forces Covenant CLCA pledge to incorporate the following question in our recruitment application and Pre-interview questionnaire and client care plans.

Have you served in the Armed Forces and or have been part of the wider Armed Forces community?

This will facilitate better communication of the client's needs and wishes, providing a personalised approach in the provision of care by matching our caregivers and clients with Armed Forces connections based on mutual interests and life experiences.

2.2 We will publicise these commitments through our literature and/or on our website, setting out how we will seek to honour them and inviting feedback from the Service community and our customers on how we are doing.
