I am writing to confirm that we have now completed our search for the information, which you requested on the 5^{th} July 2019. In that request, you asked us:

- How many breakdown incidents has Highways England recorded in the last five financial years (2018/19, 2017/18, 2016/17, 2015/16 and 2014/15)? Please break this information down by month and day within the five years.
- Please also tell me the top 15 breakdown locations by Highway Name.

Please find the data below. This data has been extracted from Highways England incident management system and shows the number of instances where the closure code for Breakdown (BD) has been recorded on the SRN. The system only records details of any incidents that Highways England have an awareness of or involvement in.

When looking at the highest frequency of incidents it is important to look at the context in terms of road length and traffic flow. Unsurprisingly the top 3 roads with the highest number of Breakdowns also appear in the top 3 when looking at traffic flow rates.

Highways England says simple checks are a way to make sure a vehicle is roadworthy. Research shows almost half of all breakdowns are caused by simple mechanical problems which could be avoided with simple checks and nearly a quarter are caused by tyre problems. We are currently sharing the following advice with road users, as part of our campaign https://highwaysengland.co.uk/motorways/:

- Check tyres: prior to setting off on a long/significant journey, check your tyre pressures are suitable for the load and the condition of your tyres, including the spare. Look out for cuts or wear and make sure the tyres have a minimum tread depth of 1.6mm, which is the legal limit
- Check engine oil: use your dipstick to check oil regularly and before any long journey, and top up if needed. Take your car back to the garage if you're topping up more than usual
- Check water: to ensure you have good visibility, always keep your screen wash topped up so you can clear debris or dirt off your windscreen
- Check lights: if your indicators, hazard lights, headlights, fog lights, reverse lights or brake lights are not functioning properly, you are putting yourself and your family at risk. In addition, light malfunctions can be a reason for your vehicle to fail its MoT
- Check fuel: before setting out, check your fuel levels and make sure you have enough to get to your destination
