Dear Sir

Airline Insolvency Review: Call for Evidence

The Insolvency Lawyers' Association (ILA) provides a forum for c 450 full, associate, overseas and academic members who practice insolvency law. The membership comprises a broad representation of regional and City solicitors, barristers and academics and overseas lawyers. The Technical Committee of the ILA (the Committee) is responsible for identifying and reporting to members on key developments in case law and legislative reform in the insolvency and restructuring market place and is often consulted by the UK Government in relation to insolvency law reform.

The Committee has read the Call for Evidence with interest, and has in particular noted the possible proposals, and the suggestion of a possible need for legislative reform, which are identified in broad terms in section 3 (from para 3.18) of the Call for Evidence. We note however that, as the Call for Evidence document itself states, it is the first step in a process which is anticipated to lead to an interim report later this year, with further engagement and development of options following that.

The Committee would welcome the opportunity to participate in discussions in that second stage, and to comment on more specific proposals which may be put forward by the review body in its interim report. We hope this will be helpful, and please contact us by email to
