

18th October 2019

Your Excellency,

I have the honour to refer to discussions which have taken place between our two Governments concerning the Trade Agreement between Colombia, Peru and Ecuador, of the one part, and the European Union and its Member States, of the other part, signed in Brussels on 26 June 2012, as amended by the Protocols of 30 June 2015¹ and 11 November 2016² (hereinafter, the EU-Andean Countries Trade Agreement), which is being applied in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland (hereinafter, the United Kingdom), in its capacity as a Member State of the European Union, and the Republic of Colombia (hereinafter, Colombia) (together, the Participants), in the spirit of preserving the rights and obligations derived from the application of the EU-Andean Countries Trade Agreement when the United Kingdom ceases to be, and ceases to be treated as, a Member State of the European Union, for the purposes of the EU-Andean Countries Trade Agreement.

In this regard, with the intention of maintaining the framework that governs the trade relations between our countries, both Participants understand that the effects of the EU-Andean Countries Trade Agreement between the European Union and Colombia will continue as far as possible between the United Kingdom and Colombia on a temporary basis, taking due account of the fact that the United Kingdom will no longer be a Member State of the European Union³. In respect of this proposal, the Participants' understanding of the proportion of the tariff-rate quotas and origin quotas, the approach to rules of origin and agricultural safeguards established in the EU-Andean Countries Trade Agreement, and a Joint Declaration on Geographical Indications, are further set out in Annexes A-D to this Note.

Secondly, this temporary arrangement will continue until the earlier of the date the Trade Agreement between the United Kingdom, of the one part, and Colombia, Ecuador and Peru, of the other part, signed in Quito on 15 May 2019 (hereinafter, the UK-Andean Countries Trade Agreement), enters into force between Colombia and the United Kingdom or the end of a nine-month period from the date this arrangement comes into effect, unless either Participant otherwise decides by giving one month's written notice. The nine-month period may be extended by mutual understanding between the Participants.

Thirdly, in order to support the application, subject to this Note, of the effects of the EU-Andean Countries Trade Agreement, the Ministry of Trade, Industry and Tourism of Colombia and the Department for International Trade of the United Kingdom will deal with any bilateral issues of a practical and operational nature, having regard to the UK-Andean Countries Trade Agreement.

Finally, this Note and your reply in the affirmative will constitute an understanding between our two Governments, it will take effect from the later of the date the United Kingdom ceases to be, or ceases to be treated as, a Member State of the European Union, for the purposes of the EU-Andean Countries Trade Agreement, and it will aim at strengthening our cooperation and mutual economic development.

In awaiting your kind response, I avail myself of this opportunity to renew to Your Excellency the assurances of my highest consideration.

Explanatory notes

In accordance with paragraph 2 of this Note, the following Annexes set out the Participants' understanding of the proportion of the tariff-rate quotas and origin quotas and the approach to rules of origin, agricultural safeguards and geographical indications established in the EU-Andean Countries Trade Agreement that will apply during the temporary arrangement and will be applied in conformity with the domestic law of each country.

Annex D – Joint Declaration on Geographical Indications

Recognising the cultural and economic importance of geographical indications (GIs) and being cognisant of the traditional and cultural connection to the place of production of such products, the Parties confirm that:

- a) The protection of geographical indications is an important part of this Agreement. Geographical indications of the United Kingdom and Colombia protected pursuant to EU-Andean Countries Trade Agreement will continue to be protected under this Agreement;
- b) Notwithstanding paragraph (a), the protection of the “Irish Whisky”, “Uisce Beatha Éireannach”, “Irish Whiskey” and “Irish Cream” geographical indications, which cover spirit drinks produced in Ireland and Northern Ireland, shall continue, upon the entry into force of this Agreement, as under the EU-Andean Countries Trade Agreement. However, obligations in respect of these geographical indications under this Agreement shall enter into force once Colombia’s registry has been modified, in accordance with its domestic law. A decision shall take place no later than 12 months after the process to modify the registry has been properly initiated in accordance with Colombia’s domestic law. If Colombia is not able to issue a decision within this time period, prior to its expiration it shall inform the United Kingdom in writing the reasons for the delay and the additional period of time it will require. Nothing in this paragraph affects the continued use of these geographical indications, established under the EU-Andean Countries Trade Agreement.
- c) Colombia has submitted the following applications for the protection of geographical indications, under the framework of the Sub-committee on Intellectual Property of the EU-Andean Countries Trade Agreement:

Geographical Indication	Product	Date of Application
Colombia
Café de Santander	Coffee	8 December 2016
Arroz de la Meseta de Ibagué	Rice	8 December 2016
Bocadillo Veleño	Guava paste	21 November 2017
Café Sierra Nevada	Coffee	11 December 2018
Café del Tolima	Coffee	11 December 2018

Regarding these Geographical Indications:

- i. Unless and until the United Kingdom notifies Colombia that the date of application for protection of these geographical indications shall be the date when they were transmitted to the Sub-committee on Intellectual Property under the EU-Andean Countries Trade Agreement, the date of application for protection shall be the date of transmission of the application to the corresponding authority in the United Kingdom. For clarity, further requests for information relating to the application will have no impact on the date of transmission of the applications.
- ii. Colombia intends to deliver its applications on the first date on which the United Kingdom officially ceases to be part of the European Union, or when the GI scheme of the European Union ceases to apply to the United Kingdom, whichever comes later.
- iii. In the context of their discussions with the United Kingdom, Colombia has not identified to date prior rights that may interfere with the registration of these GIs.
- iv. The United Kingdom will process these GI applications in a transparent and efficient manner. In addition, it will make all reasonable efforts to resolve satisfactorily, in consultation with
