The Armed Forces Covenant

An Enduring Covenant Between

The People of the United Kingdom

Her Majesty's Government

– and –

All those who serve or have served in the Armed Forces of the Crown

And their Families

The first duty of Government is the defence of the realm. Our Armed Forces fulfil that responsibility on behalf of the Government, sacrificing some civilian freedoms, facing danger and, sometimes, suffering serious injury or death as a result of their duty. Families also play a vital role in supporting the operational effectiveness of our Armed Forces. In return, the whole nation has a moral obligation to the members of the Naval Service, the Army and the Royal Air Force, together with their families. They deserve our respect and support, and fair treatment.

Those who serve in the Armed Forces, whether Regular or Reserve, those who have served in the past, and their families, should face no disadvantage compared to other citizens in the provision of public and commercial services. Special consideration is appropriate in some cases, especially for those who have given most such as the injured and the bereaved.

This obligation involves the whole of society: it includes voluntary and charitable bodies, private organisations, and the actions of individuals in supporting the Armed Forces. Recognising those who have performed military duty unites the country and demonstrates the value of their contribution. This has no greater expression than in upholding this Covenant.

Section 1: Principles Of The Armed Forces Covenant

1.1 We Collingwood Services Ltd will endeavour in our business dealings to uphold the key principles of the Armed Forces Covenant, which are:

- no member of the Armed Forces Community should face disadvantage in the provision of public and commercial services compared to any other citizen
- in some circumstances special treatment may be appropriate especially for the injured or bereaved.

Section 2: Demonstrating our Commitment

2.1 Collingwood Services Ltd recognises the value serving personnel, reservists, veterans and military families bring to our business. We will seek to uphold the principles of the Armed Forces Covenant, by:

- promoting the fact that we are an armed forces-friendly organisation; We are based in Amesbury, Wiltshire, which is located near army bases and is home to a large number of people connected with the Armed Forces. We do currently employ and have employed individuals, who are presently serving or have served.
- seeking to support the employment of veterans young and old and working with the Career Transition Partnership (CTP), in order to establish a tailored employment pathway for Service Leavers; We are registered as a CTP preferred supplier and have employed Service leavers in the past and will continue to do so. We offer training to individuals, who are connected to the Armed Forces.
- striving to support the employment of Service spouses and partners; We do currently employ Service spouses and partners and will continue to support them.
- endeavouring to offer a degree of flexibility in granting leave for Service spouses and partners before, during and after a partner's deployment; Our employment options are flexible and will always allow for leave for Service spouses and partners before, during and after a partner's deployment.
- seeking to support our employees who choose to be members of the Reserve forces, including by accommodating their training and deployment where possible; We will always aim to support our employees who choose to be members of the Reserve forces. including by accommodating their training and deployment where possible

- offering support to our local cadet units, either in our local community or in local schools, where possible; Collingwood Services Ltd is actively involved in the local community in various ways i.e. community carnival where we have connected with the local Cadet unit and also the Amesbury Rotary. We have been involved with local schools and have a kids first aid group open to all
- aiming to actively participate in Armed Forces Day; Collingwood Services Ltd have supplied event medical provision to a local Armed Forces Day event. Annually we provide free medical provision for the local British Legion's Remembrance Parade.

2.2 We will publicise these commitments through our literature and/or on our website, setting out how we will seek to honour them and inviting feedback from the Service community and our customers on how we are doing.
