Data item N00181; code set CS085/D00259

Description of change

Until the 2019 to 2020 collection the CIN census collected factors identified at the end of assessment on physical abuse and sexual abuse. From the 2020 to 2021 census these factors will be split out to identify child on child physical and child on child sexual abuse, as well as adult on child physical and sexual abuse. NB: This change will apply from the 2020 to 2021 census onwards and the new code set will run alongside the current one until the 2019 to 2020 census is completed.

Reason for change (including benefits)

Recording and collating data on child on child physical and sexual abuse in the 2020 to 2021 CIN census and beyond will enable DfE to estimate the scale of this abuse for the first time. In the longer term, it will help it to identify whether there is a decline or increase in the prevalence of child on child violence.

Collecting and publishing this data will support future child on child abuse policy development.

Impact of not doing the change

There will be no information available to assess the scale of child on child physical and sexual abuse.

Section 2 – impact analysis

Software suppliers' summary of impact assessment

Supplier 1:

Due to the fact that a new code set is not being introduced for the new factors identify the perpetrators of physical and sexual abuse it will mean that it is impossible to distinguish between factors that were recorded as 18A and 19A prior to the 1 April 2020 and the factors that were recorded post 1 April 2020 as the same code is being used.

This will impact our customers rather than us as a supplier as technically it is a simple change for us to implement but will mean that customers are unable to correctly identify whether the factor was assessed as physical abuse or physical abuse (child perpetrator), for example when reporting historically.

We would propose that instead of reusing 18A and 19A for the new codeset two brand new codes are used eg 18B, 18C, 19B and 19C. This will mean that it is simple for customers to distinguish between the abuse where no perpetrator was identified and the abuse where the perpetrator was identified as a child.

DfE internal colleagues' summary of impact assessment

Agree the need to provide an alternate solution to that proposed, due to historical reporting.

Alternative Solutions / Workarounds (if appropriate)

We will amend references to the amended code set in the 2020 to 2021 technical specification as requested.

Code	Factors Identified At Assessment
18B	Abuse or neglect – 'PHYSICAL ABUSE': concerns that services may be required or the child may be suffering or likely to suffer significant harm due to abuse or neglect by another child.
18C	Abuse or neglect – 'PHYSICAL ABUSE': concerns that services may be required or the child may be suffering or likely to suffer significant harm due to abuse or neglect by an adult.
19B	Abuse or neglect – 'SEXUAL ABUSE': concerns that services may be required or the child may be suffering or likely to suffer significant harm due to abuse or neglect by another child.
19C	Abuse or neglect – 'SEXUAL ABUSE': concerns that services may be required or the child may be suffering or likely to suffer significant harm due to abuse or neglect by an adult.
