The Armed Forces Covenant

An Enduring Covenant Between

The People of the United Kingdom

Her Majesty's Government

– and –

All those who serve or have served in the Armed Forces of the Crown

And their Families

The first duty of Government is the defence of the realm. Our Armed Forces fulfil that responsibility on behalf of the Government, sacrificing some civilian freedoms, facing danger and, sometimes, suffering serious injury or death as a result of their duty. Families also play a vital role in supporting the operational effectiveness of our Armed Forces. In return, the whole nation has a moral obligation to the members of the Naval Service, the Army and the Royal Air Force, together with their families. They deserve our respect and support, and fair treatment.

Those who serve in the Armed Forces, whether Regular or Reserve, those who have served in the past, and their families, should face no disadvantage compared to other citizens in the provision of public and commercial services. Special consideration is appropriate in some cases, especially for those who have given most such as the injured and the bereaved.

This obligation involves the whole of society: it includes voluntary and charitable bodies, private organisations, and the actions of individuals in supporting the Armed Forces. Recognising those who have performed military duty unites the country and demonstrates the value of their contribution. This has no greater expression than in upholding this Covenant.

Section 1: Principles Of The Armed Forces Covenant

1.1 We Bottle Buddi will endeavour in our business dealings to uphold the key principles of the Armed Forces Covenant, which are:

- no member of the Armed Forces Community should face disadvantage in the provision of public and commercial services compared to any other citizen
- in some circumstances special treatment may be appropriate especially for the injured or bereaved.

Section 2: Demonstrating our Commitment

2.1 Bottle Buddi recognises the value serving personnel, reservists, veterans and military families bring to our business. We will seek to uphold the principles of the Armed Forces Covenant, by:

- promoting the fact that we are an armed forces-friendly organisation;
  - Promoting your work, activities and events through our own website & social media channels and email signatures
  - Publishing the covenant pledge on a dedicated Covenant section/page on our website.
  - Publishing the Armed Forced Covenant Logo on the home page of the website
- seeking to support the employment of veterans young and old and working with the Career Transition Partnership (CTP), in order to establish a tailored employment pathway for Service Leavers;
  - we will look to promote vacancies through CTP and other likeminded organisations
- striving to support the employment of Service spouses and partners;
  - we will register vacancies with Recruit For Spouses and Forces Families Jobs

- aiming to actively participate in Armed Forces Day;
  - Willing to volunteer and offer help/support of setting up/packing away
- offering a discount to members of the Armed Forces Community;
  - Registering with Defence Discount Services enabling all service families to receive a discount on any Bottle Buddi products
- any additional commitments Bottle Buddi could make (based on local circumstances).

2.2 We will publicise these commitments through our Website and Social Media platforms, setting out how we will seek to honour them and inviting feedback from the Service community and our customers on how we are doing.
