EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM TO

THE CIVIL JURISDICTION AND JUDGMENTS (CIVIL AND FAMILY) (AMENDMENT) (EU EXIT) REGULATIONS 2020

2020 No. [XXXX]

1. Introduction

1.1 This explanatory memorandum has been prepared by the Ministry of Justice and is laid before Parliament by Act.

2. Purpose of the instrument

2.1 This instrument is made under the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018 (the Withdrawal Act) to ensure there is a functioning domestic statute book at the end of the transition period. It amends the Civil Jurisdiction and Judgments (Amendment) (EU Exit) Regulations 2019 (the Civil Regulations), the Jurisdiction and Judgments (Family) (Amendment Etc.) (EU Exit) Regulations 2019 (the Family Regulations), the Cross-Border Mediation (EU Directive) (EU Exit) Regulations 2019 (the Mediation Regulations) and the Family Procedure Rules 2010 and Court of Protection Rules 2017 (Amendment) (EU Exit) Regulations 2019 (the Rules Regulations) to address minor defects in those instruments and to clarify the interaction of international conventions and domestic law after the end of the transition period. This Memorandum refers to ‘the end of the transition period’ rather than to “exit day”, since while this instrument is not concerned with the references to “exit day” in the instruments which it amends, those references will be amended where necessary by a separate instrument or instruments made under powers in relation to implementation of the Withdrawal Agreement.

Explanations

What did any relevant EU law do before exit day?

2.2 Regulation (EU) No 1215/20121 (“Brussels 1a”) provides rules on jurisdiction and the recognition and enforcement of judgments in cross-border civil and commercial matters.

2.3 Council Regulation (EC) No 2201/20032 (“Brussels 2a”) provides rules on jurisdiction and the recognition and enforcement of judgments in cross-border family matters, including divorce and parental responsibility matters (matters involving children).

2.4 Council Regulation (EC) No 4/20093 of 18 December 2008 (“the Maintenance Regulation”) provides rules on jurisdiction and the recognition and enforcement of:

family maintenance (financial support paid by a person to or for the benefit of their former partner or their children) involving parties located in two or more EU Member States.

2.5 Directive 2008/52/EC⁴ (the Mediation Directive) seeks to harmonise certain aspects of mediation in relation to EU cross-border disputes, with the aim of promoting its use in those EU cross-border disputes.

2.6 The Family Procedure Rules (FPR) make provision governing practice and procedure for family proceedings (in the Family Court and the Family Division of the High Court). This includes provision in relation to proceedings under or pursuant to a variety of EU instruments and international agreements between the EU and third countries (for example, for an application for the court to exercise powers conferred by such an instrument or agreement).

2.7 The Court of Protection Rules (COPR) make provision governing practice and procedure in the Court of Protection, including provision governing practice and procedure for proceedings under or pursuant to the EU Service Regulation⁵ and the Taking of Evidence Regulation⁶.

Why is it being changed?

2.8 The Civil Regulations revoke Brussels 1a. In its place, domestic private international law rules will apply to cross-border cases involving parties from EU Member States. However, to ensure employees are not disadvantaged by EU exit, the Civil Regulations transpose a special “protective” jurisdiction rule for employment cases from Brussels 1a into UK domestic law.

2.9 An error has been identified in the way the Civil Regulations transpose that special rule. The Government’s policy intention is to replicate, as closely as possible, the Brussels 1a employment jurisdiction rule, modified only as necessary to make it work in the UK. In one aspect, the Brussels 1a jurisdiction rule has been inadvertently broadened to encompass employees without a habitual place of work in any one part of the UK, but who may have a habitual place of work in a country outside the UK, rather than employees without a habitual place of work in any one country.

2.10 The Family Regulations revoke Brussels 2a and the Maintenance Regulation. In their place the UK will fall back (principally) onto the 1996 Hague Convention⁷ (for cross-border parental responsibility matters involving parties from EU Member States) and the 2007 Hague Convention⁸ (for the cross-border recognition and enforcement of maintenance involving parties from EU Member States). Where there are no Hague Convention rules to fall back on, the Family Regulations make provision for the rules which will apply. In the case of maintenance jurisdiction, these are primarily the rules as they existed prior to the relevant EU rules taking effect (the pre-EU rules).

⁷ Convention of 19 October 1996 on Jurisdiction, Applicable Law, Recognition, Enforcement and Co-operation in Respect of Parental Responsibility and Measures for the Protection of Children. All EU Member States are Contracting States to this Convention.

⁸ Convention of 23 November 2007 on the International Recovery of Child Support and Other Forms of Family Maintenance. All EU Member States are Contracting States to this Convention by virtue of their EU Membership.
2.11 Two minor errors have been identified in the amendments the Family Regulations make to domestic legislation to re-instate the pre-EU jurisdiction rules in Scotland. The first of these is the inclusion of a reference to actions for adherence and aliment, which have been abolished. The second has the unintended effect that, post the end of the transition period, an applicant seeking aliment (on a standalone basis – i.e. where that is not connected to divorce or other proceedings) will be unable to bring the proceedings in Scotland and will have to pursue the paying party in the courts of the location (domicile) of the paying party. This was not the intention and therefore does not meet the Government’s policy intention. Additionally, the Government recognises that some of the provisions of the Family Regulations are potentially open to argument about their precise effect, family law stakeholders having expressed uncertainty as to the effect of the saving and transitional provisions in relation to choice of court agreements and intra-UK maintenance disputes and as to the relationship between domestic jurisdiction rules in parental responsibility matters and maintenance matters and relevant Hague Convention rules after the end of the transition period.

2.12 The Mediation Regulations revoke and repeal (as the case may be) the domestic legislation which gave effect to the EU Mediation Directive (other than court rules and matters within the legislative competence of the Scottish Parliament). They also make provision of a saving and transitional nature for EU cross-border mediations that commence before the end of the transition period.

2.13 One of the domestic instruments amended by the Mediation Regulations, the Fair Employment and Treatment (Northern Ireland) Order (the NI Order), has, subsequent to the making of the Mediation Regulations, been further amended by the Employment Act (Northern Ireland) with effect from 27 January 2020. The Mediation Regulations need to be amended to take account of the 27 January 2020 amendment to the NI Order to ensure the meaning of the relevant provision in the NI Order is clear once it is amended by the Mediation Regulations.

2.14 The Rules Regulations make amendments to the FPR and the COPR that are consequential upon the Withdrawal Act and upon statutory instruments made under powers conferred by that Act which form part of the implementation of the Government’s strategy for ensuring an orderly statute book at the end of the transition period.

2.15 There is a minor technical error in the saving and transitional provisions for the FPR (which miss out a link in the FPR, for maintenance cases arising under the 2007 Lugano Convention, to the transitional provisions made in the Civil Regulations for such cases). In addition, a cross-referencing error in the amendments to the COPR have been noted as has the failure to omit an erroneous reference to EU Member States from a definition of ‘Service Convention country’ in the COPR.

What will it now do?

2.16 The Civil Jurisdiction and Judgments (Civil and Family) (Amendment) (EU Exit) Regulations 2020:

9 2016, c.15, s6(1).
10 Article 46
• amend the Civil Regulations to ensure the Brussels 1a employment jurisdiction rules are correctly transposed into domestic law, modified only as necessary to make them work in the UK context
• amend the Family Regulations to address the error in the amendments that re-instate the pre-Maintenance Regulation jurisdiction rules in Scotland for ailment to ensure these rules are properly re-instated, so that applicants can bring proceedings in Scotland against paying parties located (domiciled) in other countries
• amend the Family Regulations to remove the obsolete reference to “actions for adherence and aliment” from the Scottish maintenance jurisdiction rules
• amend the Family Regulations to clarify that the saving and transitional provisions apply to intra-UK maintenance matters commenced under the intra-UK rules prior to the end of the transition period and to make clear that only choice of court agreements made under the EU or intra-UK rules before the end of the transition period can continue to be relied upon after it
• amend the Family Regulations to make clear that, after the end of the transition period, the relevant Hague Convention rules take precedence over the domestic jurisdiction rules in cases that properly fall under the relevant Hague Conventions
• amend the Mediation Regulations to take account of the January 2020 amendment to the NI Order made by the Employment Act (Northern Ireland)
• amend the Rules Regulations to restore the link between the saving and transitional provisions in the FPR and those of the Civil Regulations in respect of Lugano Convention family maintenance cases;
• amend the Rules Regulations to correct the cross-referencing error and omit the erroneous reference to EU Member States from the relevant definition of ‘Service Convention country’ in the COPR.

3. Matters of special interest to Parliament

Matters of special interest to Sifting Committees

3.1 This instrument is being laid for sifting by the Sifting Committees.

3.2 The amendments to the Civil Regulations and most of the amendments to the Family Regulations were included in an earlier instrument (the Civil Jurisdiction and Judgments (Civil and Family) (Amendment) (EU Exit) Regulations 2019) that was made, on account of urgency, subject to the “made affirmative” procedure. That instrument was considered by the Delegated Legislation Committee of the House of Commons on 28 October 2019, and the motion to consider the instrument was carried unopposed after a short debate; but it was, due to the 2019 General Election, not debated in the House of Lords, and accordingly ceased to have effect.

Matters relevant to Standing Orders Nos. 83P and 83T of the Standing Orders of the House of Commons relating to Public Business (English Votes for English Laws)

3.3 As the instrument is subject to negative resolution procedure there are no matters relevant to Standing Orders Nos. 83P and 83T of the Standing Orders of the House of Commons relating to Public Business at this stage.
4. Extent and Territorial Application

4.1 The territorial extent of this instrument is the whole of the UK.

4.2 The territorial application of this instrument varies between provisions. This instrument amends or revokes retained EU law with varying territorial application, including provision applying to Northern Ireland and Scotland. In each case, this instrument amends or revokes that provision in respect of its full territorial application.

5. European Convention on Human Rights

5.1 The Parliamentary Under Secretary of State in the Ministry of Justice, Alex Chalk MP, has made the following statement regarding Human Rights:

“In my view the provisions of the Civil Jurisdiction and Judgments (Civil and Family) (Amendment) (EU Exit) Regulations 2020 are compatible with the Convention rights.”

6. Legislative Context

6.1 The Civil Regulations, the Family Regulations, the Mediation Regulations and the Rules Regulations are made under section 8 of the Withdrawal Act to remedy deficiencies in domestic legislation and rules of court arising from the UK’s exit from the EU. The Civil Regulations were made on 4 March 2019, the Family Regulations on 6 March 2019 and the Mediation Regulations on 1 March 2019, all by affirmative procedure. The Rules Regulations were made on 7 March 2019 by negative procedure. The Civil Regulations, Family Regulations, Mediation Regulations and Rules Regulations will come into effect at the end of the transition period. This instrument addresses minor defects identified in those Regulations and will take effect immediately before those Regulations come into effect.

7. Policy background

What is being done and why?

Amendments to the Mediation Regulations

7.1 The Mediation Regulations amend the NI Order to omit Article 46A, which implements Article 8 of the Mediation Directive to extend limitation periods for the bringing of claims alleging unlawful discrimination or harassment to allow for an EU cross-border mediation to occur\(^\text{11}\). A consequential amendment is made to Article 46 to omit a reference to Article 46A.

7.2 Subsequent to the Mediation Regulations being made, Article 46 has been amended by the Employment Act (Northern Ireland) 2016\(^\text{12}\) to insert a reference to new Article 46B. This amendment came into effect on 27 January 2020 and, as such, the amendment to Article 46 in the Mediation Regulations does not take account of it. To ensure the effect of Article 46 post the end of the transition period is clear, the Mediation Regulations need to be amended to take account of the amendment to \(^{11}\) Article 46A will continue to apply in respect of EU cross-border mediations commenced before the end of the transition period.

\(^{12}\) 2016, c.15
Article 46 made by the Employment Act (Northern Ireland) 2016. The Civil Jurisdiction and Judgments (Civil and Family) (Amendment) (EU Exit) Regulations 2020 make the appropriate amendment to the Mediation Regulations.

Amendments to the Civil Regulations

7.3 The issue with the Civil Regulations is that an error was made in relation to one of the three grounds of special employment jurisdiction sought to be transposed from Brussels 1a into UK domestic law. Article 21 of Brussels 1a provides that an employer may be sued:

- in the courts of the EU Member State in which the employer is domiciled, or
- in the courts for the EU Member State where or from where the employee habitually carries out their work, or the courts of the last place from which they did so, or
- where the employee does not or did not habitually carry out their work in any one country, in the courts of the EU Member State where the business which engaged the employee is or was situated.

The error identified relates to the third ground above.

7.4 The third ground of the Brussels 1a rule applies only where an employee does not or did not habitually work in any one country. As transposed into UK law by the Civil Regulations, the rule provides that an employee who does not habitually work in any one part of the UK can sue in the courts of the part of the UK where the business which engaged them is situated. This means that the rule could be used even though the employee does have a habitual place of work in another country. This unintentional broadening of the category of employees to which these special jurisdictional rules apply does not meet the Government’s policy intention which was to replicate, as closely as possible, the Brussels 1a employment jurisdiction rule, modified only as necessary to make it work in the UK.

7.5 The Civil Jurisdiction and Judgments (Civil and Family) (Amendment) (EU Exit) Regulations 2020 address this error by amending the Civil Regulations to ensure that, as transposed into domestic law, the third ground of the special employment jurisdiction rule will properly reflect the Brussels 1a rule, by acting as a limited fallback where the employee has no habitual place of work anywhere in the world.

Amendments to the Family Regulations

7.6 The first (and main) issue with the Family Regulations relates to the Scottish maintenance jurisdiction rules that will apply after the end of the transition period. Schedule 8 to the Civil Jurisdiction and Judgments Act 1982 (the CJJA) makes provision for jurisdiction rules for Scotland. Prior to the commencement of the Maintenance Regulation, paragraph 2(e) of Schedule 8 made provision for cross-border cases involving standalone aliment claims only (i.e. where that is not connected to divorce or other proceedings), involving countries other than EU Member States and allowed a person who is domiciled or habitually resident in Scotland to sue a party who is domiciled or habitually resident in another country for standalone aliment in the Scottish courts. Paragraph 2(e) was revoked when the Maintenance Regulation came into effect in the UK.

14 See regulation 3.
7.7 To properly restore the Scottish pre-Maintenance Regulation jurisdiction rules in line with the Government’s policy, the Family Regulations should have reinstated paragraph 2(e) of Schedule 8. However, they do not do so. This was an oversight. The result if not corrected would be that after the end of the transition period, an applicant seeking standalone aliment from a person domiciled or habitually resident in another country would not be able to bring proceedings in the Scottish Courts and would have to pursue their claim in the courts of the other person’s domicile or residence. While the number of cases affected is not likely to be many, the impact on the parties involved in those cases could be significant.

7.8 Additionally, the Family Regulations re-instate a reference to “actions for adherence and aliment” into the Scottish maintenance jurisdiction rules. This was done in error. Actions for adherence were abolished in Scotland in 1984.

7.9 The Civil Jurisdiction and Judgments (Civil and Family) (Amendment) (EU Exit) Regulations 2020 address these errors by amending the Family Regulations to ensure that paragraph 2(e) of Schedule 8 of the CJJA is re-instated to its pre-Maintenance Regulation form and to remove the reference to actions for adherence and aliment.\footnote{See regulation 5(3)(d)}

7.10 The second issue with the Family Regulations relates to the saving and transitional provisions in regulation 8. These provisions provide for matters commenced under the Maintenance Regulation and Brussels 2a rules prior to the end of the transition period to continue to be governed by these EU rules post the end of the transition period. This includes the Maintenance Regulation’s rules about choice of court agreements which will continue to apply after the end of the transition period to proceedings that are before a court designated in a choice of court agreement.

7.11 When the EU Maintenance Regulation came into effect in the UK, new maintenance jurisdiction rules for intra-UK matters (that is maintenance disputes where the parties live in different parts of the UK), based on the Maintenance Regulation’s jurisdiction rules, were introduced. These intra-UK rules include a rule on intra-UK choice of court agreements.

7.12 The saving and transitional provisions of the Family Regulations do not expressly apply to matters commenced under the intra-UK maintenance jurisdiction rules. Family law stakeholders have advised that this creates uncertainty as to the application of the saving and transitional provisions of the Family Regulations to intra-UK maintenance cases commenced under the intra-UK rules prior to the end of the transition period, in particular, about cases where a matter is before a court in one part of the UK as at the end of the transition period pursuant to an intra-UK choice of court agreement in maintenance. Family law stakeholders have also suggested there is uncertainty as to whether the saving and transitional provisions apply to proceedings before a court pursuant to a Choice of Court Agreement made under the EU or intra-UK rules after the end of the transition period.

7.13 This instrument addresses these issues by amending the Family Regulations to make clear that the relevant saving and transitional provisions (those applying to maintenance) apply to intra-UK maintenance matters commenced under the intra-UK maintenance jurisdiction rules before the end of the transition period and to make clear that only of choice of court agreements made under the EU and intra-UK rules before the end of the transition period can continue to be relied upon after it.\(^{17}\)

7.14 In addition to addressing the issues discussed above, family law stakeholders have asked the Government to make clear that, after the end of the transition period, the relevant Hague Convention rules (the jurisdiction rules of the 1996 Hague Convention, and Article 18 of the 2007 Hague Convention, which limits a court’s jurisdiction to vary a maintenance decision that has been made by a court in another country where the creditor remains habitually resident in that other country) take precedence over the domestic jurisdiction rules in cases that properly fall under the two Hague Conventions. Family law stakeholders have advised that failing to make this clear in the relevant provisions creates uncertainty as to which rules take precedence which would, in the absence of clarification, be likely to require the matter to be tested before a court, with unnecessary cost for the parties. The Government agrees.

7.15 This instrument amends the Family Regulations to provide for amendment of relevant existing legislation to clarify that the 1996 Hague Convention jurisdiction rules and Article 18 of 2007 Hague Convention take precedence over relevant domestic jurisdiction rules.\(^{18}\)

Amendments to the Rules Regulations

7.16 The first issue with the Rules Regulations relates to the saving and transitional provision for the amendments to Part 34 of the FPR (Reciprocal Enforcement of Maintenance Orders), regulation 27. Regulation 27 provides that the rules in Part 34 continue to apply to proceedings under Part 34 as if the Rules Regulations had not been made where “the relevant saving provision” applies. “Relevant saving provision” is defined to mean the saving and transitional provisions from the Family Regulations. This definition should also refer to the saving and transitional provisions of the Civil Regulations, which are relevant to Lugano Convention maintenance cases, but this was inadvertently omitted.

7.17 This instrument accordingly amends the Rules Regulations to add the relevant saving and transitional provision of the Civil Regulations to the definition of “relevant saving provision”\(^{19}\).

7.18 In addition, the Rules Regulations contain a cross-referencing error in the provisions that amend the COPR which mistakenly refer to omitted provisions while a reference to EU Member States that should have been omitted from the definition of ‘Service Convention country’ was missed. This instrument amends the Rules Regulations to correct the cross-referencing error so that the correct provision is referred to and omit the reference to EU Member States from the relevant definition of ‘Service Convention country.’\(^{20}\)

\(^{17}\)See regulation 5(2).

\(^{18}\)See regulations 5(3)(b), 5(3)(c), 5(3)(e), 5(3)(f), 5(3)(g), 5(3)(h), 5(3)(i) and 5(3)(j).

\(^{19}\)Regulation 4(2).

\(^{20}\)Regulation 4(3).
8. European Union (Withdrawal) Act/Withdrawal of the United Kingdom from the European Union

8.1 This instrument is being made using the power in section 8 of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018 in order to address failures of retained EU law to operate effectively or other deficiencies arising from the withdrawal of the United Kingdom from the European Union. In accordance with the requirements of that Act the Minister has made the relevant statements as detailed in Part 2 of the Annex to this Explanatory Memorandum.

9. Consolidation

9.1 There are no current plans to consolidate the legislation amended by this instrument.

10. Consultation outcome

10.1 A formal consultation on this instrument has not been carried out.

10.2 No formal consultation was undertaken on the provision in this instrument that amends the Civil Regulations because it corrects an error in that instrument. In so doing this instrument ensures the special protective jurisdiction rule for employment matters is accurately transposed from Brussels 1a and will operate as described in the explanatory memorandum for the Civil Regulations. The error was drawn to the Ministry’s attention by an external legal expert.

10.3 Ministry of Justice officials met with representatives of Resolution, the Family Law Bar Association and the International Association of Family Lawyers to discuss the concerns that family lawyers had about the Family Regulations. A draft of this instrument was provided to those organisations who were invited to comment on it. Those comments were taken into consideration before the instrument was finalised. As a result of this instrument, the Family Regulations will operate as described in the explanatory memorandum for that instrument.

10.4 No formal consultation was carried out on the provisions of this instrument that amend the Mediation Regulations or Rules Regulation as these amendments correct minor deficiencies to ensure those instruments operate as described in the explanatory memorandum for the Mediation Regulations and the explanatory memorandum for the Rules Regulations.

11. Guidance

11.1 There are no plans to publish guidance with this instrument.

12. Impact

12.1 There is no, or no significant, impact on business, charities or voluntary bodies.

12.2 There is no, or no significant, impact on the public sector.

12.3 An Impact Assessment has not been prepared for this instrument because the amendments in it correct minor defects in the Civil Regulations, Family Regulations, Mediation Regulations and Rules Regulations to ensure those operate as described in the explanatory memorandums and, in the case of the Civil, Family and Mediation Regulations, the impact assessment published in respect of those instruments.
13. Regulating small business

13.1 The legislation applies to activities that are undertaken by small businesses.

13.2 To minimise the impact of the requirements on small businesses (employing up to 50 people), the approach taken is for this instrument to amend the Civil Regulations, Family Regulations, Mediation Regulations and Rules Regulations to address defects in those instruments and to clarify the operation of international conventions and domestic law after the end of the transition period.

14. Monitoring & review

14.1 As this instrument is made under the EU Withdrawal Act 2018, no review clause is required.

15. Contact

15.1 Andrew Thompson at the Ministry of Justice Telephone: 07971 828014 or email: andrew.thompson@justice.gov.uk can be contacted with any queries regarding the instrument.

15.2 Cathryn Hannah, Acting Deputy Director for Europe at the Ministry of Justice can confirm that this Explanatory Memorandum meets the required standard.

15.3 Alex Chalk MP, Parliamentary Under Secretary of State in the Ministry of Justice, can confirm that this Explanatory Memorandum meets the required standard.

Part 2
Statements required when using enabling powers under the European Union (Withdrawal) 2018 Act

1. Sifting Statement

1.1 The Parliamentary Under Secretary of State in the Ministry of Justice, Alex Chalk MP, has made the following statement regarding use of legislative powers in the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018:

“In my view the Civil Jurisdiction and Judgments (Civil and Family) (Amendment) (EU Exit) Regulations 2020 should be subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament.”

1.2 This is the case because: the instrument does no more than amend the Civil Jurisdiction and Judgments (Amendment) (EU Exit) Regulations 2019 (the Civil Regulations), the Jurisdiction and Judgments (Family) (Amendment Etc.) (EU Exit) Regulations 2019 (the Family Regulations), the Cross-Border Mediation (EU Directive) (EU Exit) Regulations 2019 (the Mediation Regulations) and the Family Procedure Rules 2010 and Court of Protection Rules 2017 (Amendment) (EU Exit) Regulations 2019 (the Rules Regulations) to address minor defects in those instruments and to clarify the interaction of international conventions and domestic law post the end of the transition period. In so doing the instrument ensures the Civil Regulations, the Family Regulations, the Mediation Regulations and Rules Regulations will operate as, and have the effect as described in the explanatory memorandums published in respect of those regulations, and, in the case of the Civil Regulations, Family Regulations and Mediation Regulations, will have the effect that Parliament was advised the regulations would have when the drafts of those instruments were debated in Parliament and will have the impact described in the Impact Assessments published in respect of those instruments.

2. Appropriateness statement

2.1 The Parliamentary Under-Secretary of State in the Ministry of Justice, Alex Chalk MP, has made the following statement regarding use of legislative powers in the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018:

“In my view the Civil Jurisdiction and Judgments (Civil and Family) (Amendment) (EU Exit) Regulations 2020 does no more than is appropriate”.

2.2 This is the case because the instrument does no more than is necessary to ensure that: the special jurisdiction rule for employment cases from Brussels 1a is properly transposed into domestic law by the Civil Regulations; the pre-EU maintenance jurisdiction rules for Scotland are properly reinstated by the Family Regulations; the application of the saving and transitional provisions of the Family Regulations to intra-UK maintenance cases that commence before the end of the transition period and to choice of court agreements made before the end of the transition period is clear; ambiguity over the relationship between the jurisdiction rules of the 1996 Hague Convention and Article 18 of the 2007 Hague Convention and relevant domestic jurisdiction provisions is removed; Article 46 of the Fair Employment and Treatment (Northern Ireland) Order as amended by the Mediation Regulations takes account of an amendment to Article 46 made by another instrument after the Mediation Regulations were made; the saving and transitional provision for the amendments to Part 34 of the FPR in the Rules Regulations correctly links to the saving and transitional provision of the Civil Regulations; a cross-referencing error in the COPR amendments in the Rules Regulations corrected; and an erroneous reference to EU Member States in a definition of ‘Service Convention country’ in the COPR Regulations is removed.

3. Good reasons

3.1 The Parliamentary Under-Secretary of State in the Ministry of Justice, Alex Chalk MP, has made the following statement regarding use of legislative powers in the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018:

“In my view there are good reasons for the provisions in this instrument, and I have concluded they are a reasonable course of action”.

3.2 These are: there is an error in the way the Civil Regulations transpose the Brussels 1a special employment jurisdiction rule into domestic law. The provisions in this instrument amend the Civil Regulations to correct that error and bring the rule into line with the intended policy and effect as described in the Explanatory Memorandum to the Civil Regulations; there are technical errors in the way the Family Regulations reinstate pre-EU maintenance jurisdiction rules in Scotland. The provisions in this instrument amend the Family Regulations to correct those technical errors; there is a lack of clarity as to whether the saving and transitional provisions in the Family Regulation apply to intra-UK maintenance cases commenced before the end of the transition period and whether they apply to choice of court agreements made after the end of the transition period. The provisions in this instrument amend the Family Regulations to make clear that the saving and transitional provisions do apply to intra-UK maintenance cases commenced before the end of the transition period but only apply to choice of court agreements made before the end of the transition period; the amendments made to domestic primary and secondary legislation in the Family Regulations have created ambiguity over the relationship between the jurisdiction provisions of the 1996 Hague Convention and Article 18 of the 2007 Hague Convention and relevant domestic provisions post the end of the transition period. The provisions in this instrument amend the Family Regulations to remove that ambiguity and clarify the law that will apply post the end of the transition period; amendments in the Mediation Regulations do not take account of a 2020 amendment to the Fair Employment and Treatment (Northern Ireland) Order made after the Mediation Regulations were made. The provisions in this instrument update the Mediation Regulations to take account of that amendment to the Fair Employment and Treatment (Northern Ireland) Order; there is an error in the FPR provisions of the Rules Regulations that will prevent those provisions from operating correctly by reference to the saving and transitional provisions of both the Family and Civil Regulations. The provisions of this instrument correct that error so that the Rules Regulations will operate by reference to the saving and transitional provisions of both the Family and Civil Regulations; there is an incorrect cross-reference in the COPR provisions of the Rules Regulations and an erroneous reference to EU Member States in a definition of ‘Service Convention country’ in the COPR Regulations that should have been omitted. The provisions of this instrument correct that cross-referencing error and also omit the erroneous reference to EU Member States from the definition of ‘Service Convention’
4. Equalities

4.1 The Parliamentary Under-Secretary of State in the Ministry of Justice, Alex Chalk MP, has made the following statement:

“The instrument does not amend, repeal or revoke a provision or provisions in the Equality Act 2006 or the Equality Act 2010 or subordinate legislation made under those Acts.

4.2 The Parliamentary Under-Secretary of State in the Ministry of Justice, Alex Chalk MP has made the following statement regarding use of legislative powers in the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018:

“In relation to the instrument, I, Alex Chalk MP, Parliamentary Under-Secretary of State in the Ministry of Justice, have had due regard to the need to eliminate discrimination, harassment, victimisation and any other conduct that is prohibited by or under the Equality Act 2010.”

5. Explanations

5.1 The explanations statement has been made in section 2 of the main body of this explanatory memorandum.
