You asked for information regarding the number of staff dismissed each of the last five years.

We have handled your request under the Freedom of Information Act 2000.

I can confirm that no civil servants working in the Office of the Secretary of State for Wales have been dismissed in the last five years. The Department uses contractors (e.g. security guards) under Ministry of Justice contracts. As the Office does not employ contractors directly you may wish to seek information relating to dismissal from the Ministry of Justice.
