Dear [REDACTED]

Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) Request – 200828010

Thank you for your request dated 28 August in which you asked for the following information from the Ministry of Justice (MoJ):

‘Under the FOI Act, could you please provide details of the legal aid payments granted to Hasham Abedi and his legal team. I would like figures from the moment of his arrival in the UK to the date of imprisonment. I would also like details of the law firms who received the payments.’

Your request has been handled under the FOIA.

I can confirm that the MoJ holds the information that you have requested, and I have provided it below.

Representation at	Solicitors	Barristers	Total	Case Periods
Crown Court	Birnberg Peirce Ltd £135,407.10	£162,055.96	£349,722.34	2019 to 2020
	Yasmin Khan Solicitors £52,259.28
Total	£187,666.38	£162,055.96	£349,722.34	2019 to 2020

Note the above costs include VAT and disbursements. Disbursements are expenses incurred which although paid by the LAA directly to the providers, are then paid to other parties involved in the case.

The LAA records data on legal aid awarded at the police station or magistrates court on a computer system which does not always allow the LAA to uniquely identify individuals, as it records names but does not record full names, dates of birth or any other means to allow the conclusive identification of specific individuals at this stage of the justice process. Therefore, figures are only provided for these areas of the legal aid scheme when the LAA are able to verify that such claims relate to the individual named in your request

Anyone facing a Crown Court trial is eligible for legal aid, subject to a strict means test. Depending on their means, applicants for criminal legal aid can be required to pay contributions up to the entire cost of the defence.

Defendants do not receive a penny of legal aid, payments are means-tested and sent directly to solicitors and barristers who represent them to ensure a fair trial. Without legal representation criminals could argue their trial was unfair and convictions could be quashed.
