The Armed Forces Covenant

An Enduring Covenant Between
The People of the United Kingdom
Her Majesty's Government

– and –

All those who serve or have served in the Armed Forces of the Crown

And their Families

The first duty of Government is the defence of the realm. Our Armed Forces fulfil that responsibility on behalf of the Government, sacrificing some civilian freedoms, facing danger and, sometimes, suffering serious injury or death as a result of their duty. Families also play a vital role in supporting the operational effectiveness of our Armed Forces. In return, the whole nation has a moral obligation to the members of the Naval Service, the Army and the Royal Air Force, together with their families. They deserve our respect and support, and fair treatment.

Those who serve in the Armed Forces, whether Regular or Reserve, those who have served in the past, and their families, should face no disadvantage compared to other citizens in the provision of public and commercial services. Special consideration is appropriate in some cases, especially for those who have given most such as the injured and the bereaved.

This obligation involves the whole of society: it includes voluntary and charitable bodies, private organisations, and the actions of individuals in supporting the Armed Forces. Recognising those who have performed military duty unites the country and demonstrates the value of their contribution. This has no greater expression than in upholding this Covenant.

Section 1: Principles Of The Armed Forces Covenant

1.1 We Resilient Nutrition Limited will endeavour in our business dealings to uphold the key principles of the Armed Forces Covenant, which are:

- no member of the Armed Forces Community should face disadvantage in the provision of public and commercial services compared to any other citizen
- in some circumstances special treatment may be appropriate especially for the injured or bereaved.

Section 2: Demonstrating our Commitment

2.1 Resilient Nutrition Limited recognises the value serving personnel, reservists, veterans and military families bring to our business. We will seek to uphold the principles of the Armed Forces Covenant, by:

- promoting the fact that we are an armed forces-friendly organisation through our marketing and social media activity as well as at events, competitions and gatherings;
- seeking to support the employment of veterans young and old and working with the Career Transition Partnership (CTP), in order to establish a tailored employment pathway for Service Leavers through our Partner Sales programme, in support of our growing Ambassador network, and with training, learning and development programmes with clients;
- striving to support the employment of Service spouses and partners by promoting open roles through Service networks and making adjustments to timing and schedules to allow Service spouses and partners apply for those roles e.g. “work from anywhere” policy;
- endeavouring to offer a degree of flexibility in granting leave for Service spouses and partners before, during and after a partner’s deployment;
- seeking to support our employees who choose to be members of the Reserve forces, including by accommodating their training and deployment where possible, making our products and services available to them and their units, providing them with learning and development opportunities that can directly contribute to the performance of their Service role;
- offering support to our local cadet units, either in our local community or in local schools, where possible;
- aiming to actively participate in Armed Forces Day;
- offering discounts to members of the Armed Forces Community through our Affiliate, Ambassador, Athlete, Subscriptions and Partnerships, as well as through Unit and Association discounts and direct discounts through our own platforms e.g. through our 20MIL (20% discount to Service related customers);
- supporting the children of Service personnel through work experience, and other experience based opportunities to learn and contribute in the areas of nutrition, training and development.

2.2 We will publicise these commitments through our literature, on our website, on social media and on our event assets, setting out how we will seek to honour them and inviting feedback from the Service community and our customers on how we are doing.
