3. Introduction

- 3.1 This Service Level Agreement (SLA) sets out the arrangements for independent oversight of the Home Office's Windrush Compensation Scheme by the Adjudicator.
- 3.2 The Adjudicator will be accountable to the Home Office for the provision of the services detailed in this agreement.
- 3.3 The Home Office will be responsible for expenditure associated with the provision of the services as agreed.

4. The Adjudicator Role and Remit

- 4.1 The Adjudicator is an independent and impartial adjudicator of complaints.
- 4.2 The Adjudicator's Office falls within the same legal entity as the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs (HMRC). The staff in the Adjudicator's Office are employees of HMRC.
- 4.3 The Adjudicator is an office holder, not an employee nor an officer of HMRC. The Adjudicator is external to HMRC, with the independent personal authority to review complaints.

- 4.4 The Adjudicator’s remit relates specifically to the Windrush Compensation Scheme and consists of two elements:
- The Adjudicator will conduct an independent review of decisions made under the Windrush Compensation Scheme.
  - Individuals can also request a review of a complaint about how the Home Office has handled their claim for compensation under the Windrush Compensation Scheme.
- 4.5 The Adjudicator will:
- Bring an independent perspective and assurance to individual case reviews;
  - Conduct the review to a quality standard in line with industry good practice;
  - Consider whether the Home Office has provided a fair and consistent application of the Windrush Compensation Scheme Rules, standards, guidance and codes of practice, alongside the factual evidence of the review;<sup>1</sup> and
  - Share insight to improve the Windrush Compensation Scheme service.
- 4.6 The Adjudicator can consider a request for review or investigate a complaint from:
- The claimant, or an authorised representative; and
  - The legal personal representative of a deceased person’s estate.
- 4.7 The Adjudicator can only accept a request for a review after the Home Office has (a) completed a Tier 1 review, (b) the decision has been communicated to the claimant, and (c) the claimant has rejected the award and requested a Tier 2 review.
- 4.8 The Adjudicator can review complaints about how a case has been handled where the complaint has been through internal Home Office complaints processes and their compensation claim is completed.
- 4.9 The Rules relating to Tier 2 Reviews are set out in part 10 of the Windrush Compensation Scheme Rules (2019). The scope of the Home Office Complaints process is set out in the: Complaints guidance for UK Visas and Immigration, Immigration Enforcement and Border Force (2016)<sup>2</sup>. The Home Office defines a complaint as an expression of dissatisfaction with the services provided by the Home Office.

  - Unreasonable delays;
  - Poor or misleading advice;

  - Whether relevant guidance has been followed;
  - Inappropriate staff behaviour; and
  - The use of discretion.
- 4.11 The Adjudicator cannot look at applications for review or complaints about:
- Decisions on eligibility to claim compensation from the Windrush Compensation Scheme;
  - Decisions made by: the Department for Work and Pensions, HMRC, any relevant National Health Service body or the Driving and Vehicle Licensing Authority (as appropriate) following a notification made to those bodies under paragraph 3.11 of the Windrush Compensation Scheme rules, or otherwise;

  - Matters that have been, are being, or should be investigated by the Parliamentary & Health Service Ombudsman;
  - The operation of or decisions made under Home Office staff disciplinary practices and procedures;
  - The handling of requests under both the Freedom of Information Act 2000 and the Data Protection Act 2018 – such issues may be referred to the Information Commissioner;
  - Matters falling into the remit of the Independent Office for Police Conduct or the Police Complaints Commission for Scotland. The Adjudicator's Office cannot look at any payment made (or refusal to make a payment) by the Police.

Access to Home Office Staff and Records

- 4.12 The Adjudicator's Office will have access to all relevant staff, information and data required for the consideration of requests for reviews and complaints received.
- 4.13 Where a compensation claimant has requested a review, the arrangements for handling of personal data are covered by the Home Office's procedures and arrangements and are set out in the Windrush Compensation Scheme Privacy Statement.

- 4.14 However, the Adjudicator will have regard to section 23(1) para 6.15 of the Criminal Procedure & Investigations Act 1996, Code of Practice, where the Home Office considers that the information is sensitive.
- 4.15 A separate Memorandum of Understanding, has been produced to cover the arrangements for sharing data between the Home Office and the Adjudicator's Office.
- 4.16 The Adjudicator's Office will use the same security classification standards as the Home Office on data, documents and copies held within their offices.
- 4.17 On rare occasions, it may be necessary for the Home Office to inform the Adjudicator that disclosure of a document would not be in the public interest. Should this situation arise, the Adjudicator will not refer to the document or its contents in any communication with the claimant.

Sensitive Case Requirements

- 4.18 Where the Adjudicator reaches conclusions which may be especially difficult for the Home Office, they will be identified and discussed through on-going dialogue between the Adjudicator's Office and the Home Office. For example:
- Recommendations that highlight behaviour or actions of an identifiable member of the Home Office staff;
  - Conclusions that involve complex technical issues or controversial legal interpretation; or
  - Recommendations that may prejudice the handling or outcomes of other cases or set unwelcome precedents.

Adjudicator's Conclusions and Recommendations

- 4.19 The Home Office welcomes feedback and insights from the Adjudicator to identify opportunities to learn lessons, improve complaint handling and its service to claimants.
- 4.20 The Adjudicator may recommend that the Home Office reviews the amount of an award where it has found evidence that:
- The Home Office has not followed processes (rules and guidance) appropriately;
  - The Home Office has used its judgement inappropriately and unreasonably in applying the rules and/or guidance in force.
- 4.21 The Adjudicator will not be entitled to substitute their judgement for a reasonable judgement reached by the Home Office.
- 4.22 The Adjudicator will issue the final report (in each individual case), conclusion and recommendations to the Home Office Deputy Director, Windrush Compensation Scheme Operations. The Adjudicator recommendation will either:

- Uphold or partially uphold the claimant's application for a review or complaint; or
  - Not uphold the claimant's application for review or complaint
- 4.23 The Adjudicator may recommend redress. Any recommendation will be in accordance with the Home Office codes of practice and policies on redress and regulatory payments.
- 4.24 The Adjudicator will notify the claimant of their recommendation, in writing. The Home Office will respond to recommendations made by the Adjudicator relating to the scheme's procedure and practice, setting out either:
- The action the Home Office plans to take to implement the recommendation;
  - The reasons why the Home Office plans to take alternative action and what that action will be; or
  - The reasons why the Home Office plans to take no further action.
- 4.25 The Home Office will notify the Adjudicator's Office when the action has been completed.
- 4.26 If the Home Office does not accept and implement the recommendation of the Adjudicator, it will provide written reasons for its decision. These reasons will be approved by the Home Office Director, UK Visas and Immigration responsible for the operation of the Windrush Compensation Scheme. In exceptional circumstances, it may be appropriate for the case to be escalated to the Home Office Second Permanent Secretary, who may raise the case with the Adjudicator.
- 4.27 The Adjudicator will give feedback and provide reports drawn from insights from individual reviews and complaints as appropriate to provide an opportunity for the Home Office to improve the delivery of the scheme.
- 4.28 The Adjudicator will provide reports quarterly to the Windrush Compensation Scheme Oversight Board.
- 4.29 The Home Office will report back to the Adjudicator through the Windrush Compensation Scheme Oversight Board on the implementation of individual recommendations and lessons learned.
