Information for businesses on what will happen if the UK leaves the EU without a deal

On 31 October 2019, the United Kingdom will leave the EU.

In the event of no deal, all tariff quota licences, issued by the Rural Payments Agency, will be invalid for importing into the EU.

To mitigate UK business impacts, the UK will honour RPA issued licences, valid beyond 31 October 2019 for importing goods into the UK.

Release of security

You must return your paper licences within 45 days of the expiry date. If you do not you will forfeit your security.

Security against the main electronic licence (excluding extracts) will be released automatically upon attribution of at least 95% of the licence quantity.

Transfer of rights

The rights of a licence may only be transferred to companies that have satisfied the proof of trade requirements detailed in this notice. The rights of a licence can only be transferred once, to the nominated transferee. Further transfers of rights are not permitted, other than to transfer the rights back to the original licence holder.
