

Below is a list of local authorities that have completed the Surveillance Camera Commissioner's self assessment tool in relation to their main public space CCTV scheme as at 30 September 2017

Although great care has been taken in compiling this list, due to the complex nature of local authorities, including partnerships, Business Improvement Districts and third party operation of surveillance camera schemes, it is possible that some local authorities may have been inadvertently omitted from the list. Furthermore there are some local authorities that no longer operate a main public space surveillance scheme.

Should you find that you are not on the list and you have completed the self assessment tool, or you have any other queries about the list, please email scc@sccommissioner.gsi.gov.uk

Certification – There are two steps in the certification process and you will find details of each step on our website.

Desktop certification – document review by a certification body, including the completed self assessment tool, code of practice, polices and procedures to ensure compliance.

Full certification – on site audit by a qualified auditor from a certification body to check cameras, systems and policies and procedures, staff and more to ensure compliance.
