Published 7 April 2020

Dear [redacted]

Letter by email

I write in response to an email you sent to me on 1 April 2020. You requested the following information:

The location of surveillance cameras within and around the area of 2533 Coventry road, B26 3PX and where they are situated spanning between Goodway road and Glencroft road.

Your request has been handled as a request for information under the Freedom of Information Act 2000.

Q1. I would like to know where the surveillance cameras are located within and around the area of 2533 Coventry road, B26 3PX and where they are situated spanning between Goodway road and Glencroft road.

I am an independent regulator of surveillance camera systems appointed by the Home Secretary. I do not hold the information which you have requested. You may consider a separate request under the Freedom of Information Act (FOI), to be made to the relevant public authority and police force in that location.

If you are dissatisfied with this response you may request an independent internal review of our handling of your request by submitting a complaint within two months to the address below, quoting reference SCC/FOI/04/20/OA. If you ask for an internal review, it would be helpful if you could say why you are dissatisfied with the response.

[redacted]

As part of any internal review my handling of your information request will be reassessed by staff that were not involved in providing you with this response. If you remain dissatisfied after this internal review, you would have a right of complaint to the Information Commissioner as established by section 50 of the Freedom of Information Act.
