Hi [Redacted]

To be honest, as we are not able to help him and he will never be happy until the drug is off the market I have suggested paring this right back to the minimum. You've already expressed sympathy in previous e-mails, he didn't know the victim personally as far as I know, any kind of official expression of sympathy often goes unbelieved, and he might be annoyed that we're asking him to do more for us when he will perceive that we haven't helped him.

Obviously if it makes you feel better to go with the original version do feel free.

Thanks
Jane
