JUDGMENT

1. Following a hearing on 16 March 2021, and a reserved judgment with reasons issued thereafter, the claimant's claim for notice pay was held to be well-founded.
2. Neither party attended this adjourned remedy hearing. The Tribunal proceeded to determine remedy based upon an exchange of emails between the Tribunal and the parties on 22 November 2021, and at which the respondent did not demur.
3. The respondent is ordered to pay to the claimant compensation in respect of notice pay in the sum of £2,343.48. That sum has been calculated net and accounts for such sums as are properly payable and/or have been paid.
