

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM TO
THE PESTICIDES (REVOCATION) (EU EXIT) REGULATIONS 2022

2022 No. [XXXX]

1. Introduction

- 1.1 This explanatory memorandum has been prepared by the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs (“Defra”) and is laid before Parliament by Act.
- 1.2 This memorandum contains information for the Sifting Committees.

2. Purpose of the instrument

- 2.1 This instrument revokes redundant retained direct EU legislation which forms part of the plant protection product (“PPP”) and maximum residue level (“MRL”) regulatory regimes, so that these regimes can continue to operate effectively following the end of the implementation period. The revocations concern direct EU legislation which came into force towards the end of the implementation period (and so was not addressed by the earlier EU Exit SIs described in paragraph 7.4) and which is given effect in Great Britain through transitional provisions in the earlier EU Exit SIs and the national statutory registers. As a result, the retained direct EU legislation to be revoked is no longer required.

3. Matters of special interest to Parliament

Matters of special interest to the Sifting Committees

- 3.1 This instrument is being laid for sifting by the Sifting Committees.

4. Extent and Territorial Application

- 4.1 The territorial extent of this instrument is England and Wales, and Scotland.
- 4.2 The territorial application of this instrument is England and Wales, and Scotland.

5. European Convention on Human Rights

- 5.1 Minister of State, Victoria Prentis MP has made the following statement regarding Human Rights:

“In my view the provisions of the Pesticides (Revocation) (EU Exit) Regulations 2022 are compatible with the Convention rights.”

6. Legislative Context

- 6.1 This instrument is made in exercise of powers conferred by section 8(1) of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018. Section 8(1) of the Withdrawal Act provides that a Minister of the Crown may by regulations make such provisions as the Minister considers appropriate to prevent, remedy or mitigate any failure of retained EU law to operate effectively or any other deficiency in retained EU law arising from the withdrawal of the UK from the EU.

7. Policy background

What is being done and why?

- 7.1 This instrument is being made in order to maintain the effectiveness and continuity of retained EU law that relates to PPPs and maximum residue levels (MRLs) by revoking retained direct EU legislation that is redundant following the end of the implementation period. These revocations are required as a number of EU regulations came into force prior to the end of the implementation period, but after the earlier EU Exit SIs (referred to in paragraph 7.4 below) were finalised.

Explanations

What did any law do before the changes to be made by this instrument?

- 7.2 Regulation (EC) No 1107/2009 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 21 October 2009, and all its underpinning implementing Regulations, regulate the placing of PPPs on the market, including the approval of active substances, authorisation of PPPs, and management of associated risks.
- 7.3 Regulation (EC) No 396/2005 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 23 February 2005 sets MRLs for pesticides in food and feed and measures to ensure their compliance. This provides a high level of protection that pesticide residues on food will not pose risks to health.
- 7.4 Decisions on pesticide regulation taken under the EU pesticide regime are given effect through Commission Implementing Regulations (“CIRs”), which underpin Regulations (EC) No 1107/2009 and (EC) No 396/2005. Such decisions are frequent and there is a regular flow of pesticide CIRs published by the European Commission. This instrument revokes a series of CIRs that came into force prior to the end of the implementation period but after the earlier EU Exit SIs, and which are therefore now redundant. These CIRs are concerned with, for example, the approval, extension of approval or non-renewal of active substances, and the amendment of pesticide MRLs.

Why is it being changed?

- 7.5 The main corrections required to the regulatory regime for pesticides as a result of EU Exit have already been put in place through a series of earlier EU Exit SIs, primarily the Plant Protection Products (Miscellaneous Amendments) (EU Exit) Regulations 2019 (SI No 2019/556) (“the PPP EU Exit SI”), the Pesticides and Fertilisers (Miscellaneous Amendments) (EU Exit) Regulations 2019 (SI No 2019/306), the Pesticides (Maximum Residue Levels) (Amendment etc.) (EU Exit) Regulations 2019 (SI No 2019/557) (“the MRL EU Exit SI”), the Pesticides (Amendment) (EU Exit) Regulations 2019 (SI No 2019/1410) and the Pesticides (Amendment) (EU Exit) Regulations 2020 (SI No 2020/1376).
- 7.6 These SIs established a regulatory regime for pesticides in Great Britain. The approach taken in these earlier SIs was to deem active substance approvals and various decisions on MRLs made in the EU prior to the end of the implementation period to have been made by the relevant Great Britain competent authorities, and to establish new statutory registers to record decisions on approval of active substances and give effect to decisions on setting of pesticide MRLs. This ensured that all relevant extant EU decisions were retained in Great Britain after the end of the implementation period. The EU implementing regulations which had previously given effect to those decisions were therefore redundant and so were repealed.

- 7.7 This SI is now required in order to follow this established approach in relation to further EU implementing regulations which came into force in the latter part of the implementation period, hence too late to have been addressed in the earlier EU Exit SIs. The effect of these further EU implementing regulations has already been retained through the transitional provisions in the earlier EU Exit SIs, and the new statutory registers, so the implementing regulations themselves are no longer required. It is now necessary to remove them so that they do not remain on the statute book.

What will it now do?

- 7.8 The changes made by this instrument will revoke redundant provisions (specifically revoking EU implementing regulations which had previously given effect to active substance and MRL decisions, which are now given effect through the transitional provisions in previous EU Exit SIs and the statutory registers) so that PPPs, and MRLs for pesticides in food and feed, continue to be effectively managed.

8. European Union Withdrawal and Future Relationship

- 8.1 This instrument is being made using the power in section 8 of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018 in order to address failures of retained EU law to operate effectively or other deficiencies arising from the withdrawal of the United Kingdom from the European Union. In accordance with the requirements of that Act the Minister has made the relevant statements as detailed in Part 2 of the Annex to this Explanatory Memorandum.

9. Consolidation

- 9.1 Not applicable.

10. Consultation outcome

- 10.1 We have not consulted specifically on this instrument, because it contains only minor technical amendments and represents no change of policy and has no impact of itself on businesses or the public.
- 10.2 We have liaised with Devolved Administrations as the instrument is Great Britain-wide.

11. Guidance

- 11.1 Guidance is not being provided in relation to this instrument.

12. Impact

- 12.1 There is no, or no significant, impact on business, charities or voluntary bodies.
- 12.2 There is no, or no significant, impact on the public sector.
- 12.3 A full Impact Assessment has not been prepared for this instrument because there is expected to be no or no significant impact on business as a direct result of this legislation. This is because it relates to the maintenance of existing legislation.

13. Regulating small business

- 13.1 The legislation applies to activities that are undertaken by small businesses.

13.2 This instrument revokes retained direct EU legislation that is considered redundant, maintaining existing regulatory standards. No mitigating actions for small businesses were deemed necessary for this instrument.

14. Monitoring & review

14.1 The approach to monitoring of this legislation is no specific monitoring arrangements are needed.

14.2 As this instrument is made under the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018, no review clause is required.
