Read the package leaflet carefully before using Gina®.

Gina® is for postmenopausal women aged 50 years and older who have not had a period for at least 1 year and suffer from vaginal symptoms due to oestrogen deficiency. Gina® is a form of hormone replacement therapy (HRT).

Do Not use Gina® if you:

- are allergic to estradiol or any of the other ingredients
- have or ever had womb or ovarian cancer
- have or recently had vaginal or genital bleeding, since your periods stopped due to the menopause
- have recent or suspected endometrial hyperplasia, (or e.g. if you have been referred for an ultrasound of your womb and are waiting for the results)
- have previously been treated with oestrogen only HRT (without Progestogen) and you have not had your womb removed
- have a current vaginal infection prior to starting treatment with Gina®
- have changes in the look or feel, or severe itchy patches on your vulva
- have a rash on your vulva
- have or ever had breast cancer, or have a lump / change in appearance in your breast, or nipple discharge
- have or ever had a blood clot in a vein
- have or ever had a heart attack, stroke or angina
- have a blood clotting disorder
- have liver disease and your liver function tests have not returned to normal
- have a rare condition called 'porphyria'.

You should inform your doctor at your next appointment that you are using Gina®.

You may need to speak to your doctor before using Gina®, ask your pharmacist for advice if you:

- have a history of endometriosis
- have a history of excessive thickening of the womb lining
- are receiving any hormonal therapy, including tablets, gels or patches
- are switching from another vaginal oestrogen treatment.

Stop using Gina immediately and seek prompt advice from your doctor if you notice any of the following during treatment:

- new vaginal bleeding, spotting or itching
- or any of the conditions listed in the 'do not use' section.
- you have endometriosis and your symptoms come back

Get prompt advice from your doctor if you:

- have yellowing of the skin
- have migraine-like headaches for the first time
- have large rise in blood pressure (symptoms may become pregnant.
