Registered designs - search and examination

9 Do you have views on whether the IPO should change examination practice for designs?

Please add your views here:

Yes, it should cover computer software written for AI applications.

10 Do you think it would be useful to introduce any of the options outlined? (please select all that apply)

Use of AI tools

Please provide more detail below:

Lots of innovation goes into developing AI applications. That IP should be protected.

Simplifying the designs system

11 What form of designs protection works best for you at present?

Please add your views here:

AI tools need to be protected for at least 2 to 5 years to allow the developer to recover the costs. They can be registered designs.

12 Do the different and overlapping ways of protecting the appearance of a product present any issues to creators and users of the system? If you think the system could be simplified, we would like your views on how to do this.

Please add your views here:

13 Are there terms in the Registered Designs Act which would benefit from clarification or guidance e.g. "get up"?

Please add your views here:

Cover AI software and tools.

14 Please share any issues you or your clients have experienced in relation to the changes to disclosure requirements for unregistered designs since the end of the transition period (31 December 2020).

Please add your views here:

15 Would any of the options outlined, such as simultaneous disclosure, address this issue? Are there any other ways of addressing the lack of reciprocal recognition for unregistered designs in the UK and EU? If so, please provide details on how they may work in practice.

Please add your views here:

Future technologies

16 How can the current system better meet the needs of a digital environment and future technologies?

Please add your views here:

AI tools designed for a specific purpose should be covered.

17 Are areas such as digital designs and 4D printed products adequately protected by the current system?

Please add your views here:

18 Do you think it would be useful to introduce any of the options outlined? These include extending supplementary unregistered design to cover computer generated designs, filing of digital representations and ceasing accepting physical specimens.

Please add your views here:

extending supplementary unregistered design to cover AI

19 What are your views on the protection of computer-generated designs?

Please add your views here:

computer generated designs and solutions belong to the developer and should be protected.

Better regulation

20 Should UK law have an express deferment provision and how long should it be?

Please add your views here:

Yes, a period of 12 months.

21 What information, if any, should be published in relation to a deferred design?

Please add your views here:

Period of deferment.

22 Is there a need for specific provisions for prior use or to deal with co-pending applications?

Please add your views here:

Enforcement

23 What are your views on the effectiveness of the UK's enforcement framework?

Please add your views here:

Have had no experience.

24 How could it be improved to help small businesses and individual designers enforce their rights?

Please add your views here:

Their rights should be protected by law.

25 What has been your experience of the introduction of criminal sanctions for registered designs?

Please add your views here:

No experience in this field.

26 What are your thoughts on extending criminal sanctions to unregistered designs and what economic evidence do you have to support your view?
