

Your Pubs Code Rights Once Your Pub is Sold

How your Pub Code rights will apply

I am Fiona Dickie, the Pubs Code Adjudicator (PCA). Since [name of POB] is selling your pub to a pub operator owning fewer than 500 tied pubs, I'd like to tell you how the Pubs Code will apply to you under what is known as extended protection.

The important change is that after the sale you will not have a right to the Market Rent Only option to go free of tie. But you'll be pleased to know that you will keep all your other Code rights and protections until your current tenancy ends (they do not continue if your tenancy is renewed) or until your new pub company has carried out your next rent assessment.

As the law requires, [name of POB] has notified me of the intended sale of your pub and the name and address of your new landlord. I will be writing to your new landlord to make sure they are aware of the Pubs Code rights that continue to protect you.

Your Code Rights Include:

- Fair tied rent negotiations – your pub operator must give you valuable information to negotiate a fair rent at rent review
- You can ask for a rent review if you have not had one in 5 years.
- The pub company must treat you fairly and lawfully when talking about rent, repairs, and business planning – and send you accurate records of those discussions
- You can price match premises insurance

Find out about these rights and others – they are protected by law.
