REASONS FOR DECISION

Background

1. The Tribunal gave formal notice of its decision by a Notice dated 19th October 2022 that the rent will be £210.00 per week (pw).
2. On the 13th May 2022 the landlord of the above property applied to the Rent Officer for registration of a fair rent of £192.00 pw. The rent having been previously determined by the Rent Officer at £186.50 pw on 30th July 2020 and effective from the same date.
3. On the 7th July 2022 the Rent Officer registered a fair rent of £214.00 pw effective from the 30th July 2022.
4. The Tenant objected to the rent determined by the Rent Officer and the matter was referred to the First-tier Tribunal (Property Chamber) (Residential Property).
5. The tenancy appears to be a statutory protected periodic tenancy which commenced, as recorded by the Rent Officer on 5th August 1975 ( Landlord says 8th December 1977). There is no written tenancy agreement. The tenancy (not being for a fixed periodic tenancy of 7 years or more) is subject to Section 11 of the Landlord and Tenant Act 1985 (the landlord's statutory repairing obligations).

Factual Background and Submissions

6. Following the Directions dated 14th September 2022 and the explanation contained therein, the Tribunal did not inspect the premises. A hearing was not requested in the current proceedings.
7. Extracting such information as it could from the papers supplied to the Tribunal by the parties, by reference to information publicly available on the internet and with the benefit of its knowledge and experience, the Tribunal reached the following conclusions and found as follows:
8. The property comprises a centrally heated semi-detached house located in a rural location close to Yalding Station. 1/2 mile from the village of Yalding and 5 miles from Maidstone.
9. The accommodation comprises: 1 reception room, kitchen, 3 bedrooms and bathroom/ W.C. Outside: gardens.
10. The property is let unfurnished without carpets, curtains or white goods.
11. All mains services are assumed to be connected.
12. The Tenant did not complete the Reply Form nor make any submissions save email correspondence to the Rent Officer stating the rent was not affordable.
13. The Landlord did not complete the Reply Form nor make any submissions.

The Law

14. When determining a fair rent the Tribunal, in accordance with section 70 of the Rent Act 1977, had regard to all the circumstances including the age, location and state of repair of the property. It disregarded the effect of (a) any relevant tenant's improvements and (b) the effect of any disrepair or other defect attributable to the tenant or any predecessor in title under the regulated tenancy, on the rental value of the property.
15. In Spath Holme Ltd v Chairman of the Greater Manchester etc Committee (1995) 28 HLR 107 and Curtis v London Rent Assessment Panel [1999] QB 92, the Court of Appeal emphasised:
  - (a) that ordinarily a fair rent is the market rent for the property discounted for 'scarcity' (i.e. that element, if any, of the market rent, that is attributable to there being a significant shortage of similar properties in the wider locality available for letting on similar terms - other than as to rent - to that of the regulated tenancy) and
  - (b) that for the purposes of determining the market rent, assured tenancy (market) rents are usually appropriate comparables. (These rents may have to be adjusted where necessary to reflect any relevant differences between those comparables and the subject property).
16. The Rent Acts (Maximum Fair Rent) Order 1999 restricts the amount by which the rent may be increased to a maximum 5.00% plus RPI since the last registration.
17. The only exception to this restriction is provided under paragraph 7 of the Order where a landlord carries out repairs or improvements which increase the rent by 15% or more of the previous registered rent.

Tribunal's deliberations

18. The Tribunal considered the matter with the benefit of the submissions made by the Landlord and the Tenant. The Tribunal does not take into consideration the personal circumstances (including affordability) of the Landlord or Tenant in making its determination (including issues between Landlord and Tenant which do not affect the rental value of the property itself).
19. The Tribunal checked the National Energy Performance Register and noted that that the property has an Energy Performance Certificate (EPC) of C. The certificate expires on 19th September 2027. The minimum standard is Rating E (unless exempt) for offering a property to let on the open market.
20. The Tribunal looked at the Rent Officer's valuation of the Fair Rent under Section 70 of the Rent Act 1977. The Rent Officer had started with a market rent for the property assuming it was in good repair and available in the market today. He found that the Market Rent would be £277.00 pw.
21. The Rent Officer then considered that certain deductions should be made to reflect the condition, facilities and differing nature of the tenancy. He concluded that the sum of £52.00 pw should be deducted from the market rent to reflect these matters (which included, but not exclusively): Tenant repairing and decorating liability, no white goods, no floor covering or curtains. He made an adjustment of 4.00% for scarcity (see explanation below). The result was a Fair Rent of £214.00.

22. The Tribunal, acting as an expert tribunal, determined what rent the landlord could reasonably be expected to obtain for the subject property in the open market if it were let today in the condition and subject to the terms of such a tenancy that is considered usual for such an open market letting. It did this by having regard to the evidence supplied by the parties and the Tribunal's own general knowledge of market rent levels in the wider area of Kent. Having done so, it concluded that such a likely market rent for a similar property in fair condition with central heating, modern bathroom and kitchen facilities, floor coverings, curtains, white goods and an EPC Rating of E or above would be £265.00 pw.

23. However, the subject property is not in the condition considered usual for a modern letting at a market rent. It is therefore necessary to adjust that hypothetical rent of £265.00 pw to allow for the differences between the condition considered usual (including responsibility of tenants to maintain decorations as opposed to decorate) for such a letting and the condition of the actual property as stated in the papers (disregarding the effect of any disrepair or other defect attributable to this tenant or any predecessor in title), and the lack of modernisation referred to above.

24. The Tribunal considered the observations of the Rent Officer and concluded using its own knowledge and judgement, that it was appropriate to make deductions in respect of the following:

- a) Tenant's decorating liability: £25.00
- b) Lack of Carpets curtains and white goods: £30.00

25. A total deduction of £55.00 per week.

Scarcity

26. The matters taken into account by the Tribunal when assessing scarcity were:-
- a) The Tribunal interpreted the 'locality' for scarcity purposes as being the wider area of Kent as a whole (i.e. a sufficiently large area to eliminate the effect of any localised amenity which would, in itself, tend to increase or decrease rent.
  - b) Local Authority and Housing Association waiting lists.
  - c) House prices which could be an indicator of increased availability of housing and a reduction in scarcity.
  - d) Submissions of the parties.
  - e) The members of the Tribunal have between them many years of experience of the residential letting market and that experience leads them to the view that there is no substantial shortage of similar houses available to let in the locality defined above.

27. Assessing a scarcity percentage cannot be a precise arithmetical calculation because there is no way of knowing either the exact number of people looking for a particular type of house in the private sector or the exact number of such properties available. It can only be a judgment based on the years of experience of members of the Tribunal. The Tribunal considered that there was no substantial scarcity element and accordingly made no deduction.
28. This leaves a fair rent for the subject property of £210.00 pw.

Relevant Law

29. The Rent Act 1977.
30. Rent Acts (Maximum Fair Rent) Order 1999. In particular paragraph 7 which states:

This article does not apply in respect of a dwelling-house if because of a change in the condition of the dwelling-house or the common parts as a result of repairs or improvements (including the replacement of any fixture or fitting) carried out by the landlord or a superior landlord, the rent that is determined in response to an application for registration of a new rent under Part IV exceeds by at least 15% the previous rent registered or confirmed.

Rent Acts (Maximum Fair Rent) Order 1999

31. The rent is not limited by the Fair Rent Acts (Maximum Fair Rent) Order 1999 because it is below the maximum fair rent (see calculation on reverse of decision sheet) of £228.50 pw and accordingly the sum of £210.00 pw will be registered as the fair rent on and with effect from 19th October 2022 being the date of the Tribunal's decision.
