A Response to the Criminal Justice Joint Inspection: Neurodiversity in the Criminal Justice System, A Review of Evidence

Report Published: 15th July 2021

INTRODUCTION

Neurodivergence is an umbrella term used to describe an inclusive list of difficulties, differences, conditions and disorders including, but not exclusive to, learning disabilities, learning difficulties, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism and Acquired Brain Injury.

Although neurodivergence is distinctly different from mental health needs, it is important to recognise that there is a high likelihood of co-occurrence between neurodivergence and mental health needs. However, people with neurodivergent traits/conditions can require very different and nuanced support compared to more clinical interventions often associated with mental health needs, which include socio-communicative, sensory and educational intervention.

The then Lord Chancellor, the Rt Hon Robert Buckland KC MP, commissioned HM Inspectorate of Prisons and Probation, with support from HM Inspectorate of Constabulary and Fire and Rescue Services, to conduct an independent Call for Evidence (CfE) on adult neurodiversity in the criminal justice system, which was published on 15 July 2021.

HM Inspectorate of Prisons (HMIP), HM Inspectorate of Probation for England and Wales and HM Inspectorate of Constabulary and Fire and Rescue Services for England and Wales are independent inspectorates that provide scrutiny of the conditions for, and treatment of, prisoners and offenders. They scrutinise and report on conditions within prisons and young offender institutions, as well as the treatment of offenders and the effectiveness of probation services and youth offending services across England and Wales to the Ministry of Justice (MoJ) and His Majesty's Prison and Probation Service (HMPPS). In response to the report HMPPS and MoJ are required to draft a robust and timely action plan to address the recommendations.

A cross-government action plan was published on 30 June 2022, which set out which of the recommendations in the CfE were agreed, partly agreed, or not agreed. Where a recommendation is agreed to, or partly agreed, the action plan provides specific steps and actions to address these. Actions are clear, measurable, achievable and relevant with the owner and timescale of each step clearly identified. Action plans are sent to the Justice Inspectorates and published on GOV.UK website.

Progress made against the implementation and delivery of the action plans will also be monitored by HMPPS and MoJ and will be reported on. This update provides an overview of the progress made against each recommendation over the past six months. Work is ongoing in several areas and a further update will be provided in Summer 2023.

Term	Definition	Additional comment
Agreed	All of the recommendation is agreed with, can be achieved and is affordable.	The response should clearly explain how the recommendation will be achieved along with timescales. Actions should be as SMART (Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Realistic and Time-bound) as possible. Actions should be specific enough to be tracked for progress.
Partly Agreed	Only part of the recommendation is agreed with, is achievable, affordable and will be implemented. This might be because we cannot implement the whole recommendation due to commissioning, policy, operational or affordability reasons.	The response must state clearly which part of the recommendation will be implemented along with SMART actions and tracked for progress. There must be an explanation of why we cannot fully agree the recommendation - this must state clearly whether this is due to commissioning, policy, operational or affordability reasons.
Not Agreed	The recommendation is not agreed and will not be implemented. This might be because of commissioning, policy, operational or affordability reasons.	The response must clearly state the reasons why we have chosen this option. There must be an explanation of why we cannot agree the recommendation - this must state clearly whether this is due to commissioning, policy, operational or affordability reasons.

ACTION PLAN: Neurodiversity in the Criminal Justice System: A Review of the Evidence

1	In order to improve outcomes for neurodivergent people within the criminal justice system a coordinated and cross-government approach is required. To give the leadership and direction needed, the Ministry of Justice should work with the Home Office, Department for Health and Social Care and the Department for Education and the Welsh Government to develop an overarching national strategy. This	Partly Agreed	We fully agree the first part of this recommendation. The Ministry of Justice (MoJ) has established a Cross Government Working Group (DHSC, HO, Welsh Gov, DfE) of Senior Officials and an Operational Group (MoJ, HMPPS, HMCTS, CPS, HO, NHS, NPCC) of the relevant agencies in recognition of the need for a cross system effort to improve provision for neurodivergent people at all stages of the Criminal Justice System (CJS). To ensure we are able to develop and implement system wide improvements, the Cross Government Working Group and the Operational Group will consider each of the key stages of the CJS including an individual’s first contact with Police, Liaison and Diversion services, courts and sentencing, probation supervision, prison and, lastly, resettlement back into the community. We have already made considerable progress on supporting a neurodivergent person throughout their journey through the CJS. At sentencing we now have guidelines for magistrates and judges to take neurodivergence into account. 	strategy should be developed together with people with personal experience of neurodivergence.		sentences, we are trialling neurodiversity specialists as part of our Community Sentence Treatment Requirements. In prisons we have trialled Neurodiversity Support Manager roles in four prisons and are now looking to roll this out further. HMPPS have developed an Adult Health, Care and Wellbeing Core Capabilities Framework for Prison and Probation Staff, which is inclusive of considering the needs of neurodivergent people. In terms of resettlement back into the community after a stay in prison, we are developing a resettlement passport which will adopt a personalised approach to resettlement including taking into account prisoners with learning difficulties/ disabilities/ differences, autism or ADHD. However, this recommendation is partly agreed because relevant government departments and agencies need to work together to map out current workstreams and then assess if a neurodiversity strategy is the best way forward. The Cross Government Working Group will map out current policies, strategies and workstreams related to neurodiversity that are applicable to the Criminal Justice System. This work will also be supported by the Operational Group which will bring together the operational level agencies from all relevant departments to ensure each stage the CJS is taking neurodivergence into account. An exploration phase will take place over six months from publication and this time will be used to establish whether a neurodiversity strategy specifically for the CJS is needed or whether existing policies and/or strategies in place for neurodivergent people can be expanded to cover any gaps relating to the CJS.
--	---	--	--	--	--

			Specific actions for the exploratory phase include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - HMCTS and MoJ will develop interventions to better support the needs of neurodivergent people coming through court and will provide an update on progress at the six-month review of the action plan. - HMPPS and MoJ will map out and evaluate current screening processes, data sharing procedures and the trialling of Neurodiversity Support Managers and will provide an update on progress at the six-month review of the action plan. - The National Police Chief's Council (NPCC) will explore examples of what current adjustments are being made for neurodivergent people who come into contact with the police and provide an update by the six-month review of this action plan. - The Department for Health and Social Care will explore the health and care related gaps beyond the current Autism Strategy in relation to neurodiversity in the Criminal Justice System. DHSC will scope related work across the Department and NHS England and provide an update by the six-month review of this action plan. - Departments will work in partnership with the Welsh Government during the exploration phase to identify synergies between government departments and best practice examples. 	Head of User Accessibility and Operational Support Deputy Director, Strategic Development Group in the Strategy, Planning and Performance Directorate and Deputy Director, Reducing Reoffending, HMPPS Assistant Chief Officer with Devon and Cornwall Police and the neurodiversity lead for the National Police Chiefs' Council Deputy Director, Neurodiversity, disability and Learning Disability, DHSC Counterpart Deputy Directors responsible for Neurodiversity Policy at DHSC, HO, MoJ and their agencies.	November 2022 November 2022 November 2022 November 2022

			MoJ officials have worked in partnership with Revolving Doors to launch a lived experience forum in October 2021 to ensure individuals' lived experience is embedding within policy and operational decision making. 			Six Month Update We are committed to ensuring neurodivergent people in the CJS are supported at every stage of the process. The Building the Right Support Action Plan (July 2022), Autism Strategy Refresh (July 2021) and the Prison Strategy White Paper (December 2021) each provide commitments which aim to ensure that neurodivergent people can access the right support. We will continue to focus on strengthening and delivering against these commitments, as well as delivering through this action plan. The Cross Government Working Group, led by MoJ, has met four times to direct and oversee the six-month exploratory phase. The establishment of this working group has strengthened working relationships between key health, justice and policing agencies and improved join-up. The Cross Government Working Group will continue to play a vital role in the implementation of the commitments set out in this document and will strategically monitor delivery through a network of Senior Responsible Officers. To support delivery, an Operational Working Group was established to thoroughly examine the support available for neurodivergent people at every stage of the CJS, from an individual's first contact with Police, all the way through to resettlement back into the community upon leaving prison. This process highlighted that a wide range of work is already in train to improve the quality, consistency, and	Counterpart Deputy Directors responsible for neurodiversity policy at DHSC, HO, MoJ and their agencies. Counterpart Deputy Directors responsible for Neurodiversity Policy at DHSC, HO, MoJ and their agencies. Operational and Policy colleagues from MoJ, HMPs, HMCTS	Completed October 2022 Completed October 2022 Completed October 2022

			availability of support for this cohort. Targeted interventions have been developed to fill any identified gaps. Progress includes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • To improve the support available during someone’s first point of contact with the CJS, the Police Working Group, chaired by Assistant Chief Officer (ACO) Poole, is producing a best practice directory to highlight examples of training, reasonable adjustments and innovations. This will be completed and sent to all forces in early 2023. • Across courts and sentencing, HMCTS has developed and approved a Signposting Strategy, which sets out how HMCTS will connect users with additional needs to external support providers. • The Legal Aid Agency is committed to working with MoJ to improve join up with police, solicitor practitioners, prison and probation and courts and sentencing colleagues, to ensure the appropriate and timely legal advice and that steps are taken to support neurodivergent people in understanding legal proceedings. The Legal Aid Agency will explore where there may be gaps in current processes and identify solutions in time for the next update to this action plan. • In prison and probation, substantial progress has already been made with the rollout of the Neurodiversity Support Manager role in prisons. As of December 2022, 51 Neurodiversity Support Managers have been recruited, and we are on track to roll this out across all prisons in England and Wales by 2024. These roles are already playing a vital role in improving processes to identify and support prisoners with neurodivergent needs, including ensuring neurodivergent prisoners 	Assistant Chief Officer with Devon and Cornwall Police and the neurodiversity lead for the National Police Chiefs' Council Head of User Inclusion and Engagement, HMCT Head of People and Capability, Legal Aid Agency Deputy Director, Reducing Reoffending, HMPPS and Director of Prison Policy, Deputy Director, Strategic Development Group in the Strategy, Planning and Performance Directorate	Early 2023 Complete

HMPPS have appointed a centrally based neurodiversity team to help to embed these posts within the prisons through developing resources, promoting networking and sharing of good practice, as well as providing specialist advice and support. In partnership with HMPPS, MoJ are actively championing autism accreditation across the prison estate to make the prison environment more supportive for neurodivergent people. As of October 2022, four prisons have received accredited status and 14 prisons are working towards it. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • To ensure we are fully meeting the needs of neurodivergent people leaving prison, MoJ is piloting digital tools to improve support for neurodivergent people. One pilot which is already live is Turning Pages - a digital learning tool aimed at prison leavers with learning difficulties and disabilities that encourages them to improve their literacy skills post release. This pilot was launched in Kent, Surrey and Sussex probation region in October 2022 and will run for 12 months. • To improve access to healthcare, NHS England's Health and Justice team are undertaking a number of actions to improve the experience of accessing healthcare for neurodivergent people in the criminal justice system. These include implementing the learning disability improvement standards and carrying out autism and learning disability benchmarking in Health and Justice regions; and developing a network of learning disability and autism prison healthcare champions and developing neurodiversity pathways and 	Deputy Director, Prisoner Outcomes, Resettlement and Reoffending, HMPPS Health and Justice Team, NHS England, DHSC, Deputy Director, Community Healthcare, DHSC	October 2023

Further, DHSC is leading a cross-government Acquired Brain Injury (ABI) Strategy to support better outcomes for individuals with an ABI, their families and carers, including those in the CJS. An update on the publication of this strategy will be provided in six months. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Welsh Government representatives attend the Cross-Government Working Group to help inform our overall approach and share best practice. The Welsh Government has undertaken a demand and capacity review of neurodiversity services and in response to the review findings, a neurodivergence improvement programme has been established. This will consider the needs of neurodivergent people in Wales involved in the CJS, in the devolved context. The MoJ will be represented as they develop services and this includes membership of our Neurodivergence Ministerial Advisory Group which will have oversight of programme delivery. 2	A common screening tool for universal use within the criminal justice system should be introduced, supported by an information sharing protocol specifying how information should be appropriately shared within and between	Partly Agreed	We fully agree to reviewing our current screening tool use across the CJS. The MoJ led Cross Government Working Group will consider the need and feasibility of rolling out a common screening tool, what is appropriate for each individual CJS setting, including practicality, use, affordability and value for money. This includes consideration of current screening practices by partner agencies, information security, the purposes of information sharing and GDPR compliance, other legal duties on data sharing, Welsh Government devolved policy responsibilities, as well as establishing whether the current IT and information systems used across the CJS are compatible and can share this type of information. 	agencies, to make sure that necessary adjustments and extra support are provided for individuals as they progress through the criminal justice system.		HMPPS is currently mapping out and considering several different screening approaches to indicate the likelihood of neurodivergent traits, which will be updated at the six-month review of the action plan. So far, this mapping out exercise has identified key activities to be carried out in partnership with other organisations (including NHS England/ Improvement and the Third Sector where relevant) that will support the implementation of appropriate screening tool use across the estate. However, this recommendation is partly agreed as, using a common screening tool across the Criminal Justice System (CJS) may not be the most appropriate in all settings. Further scoping will be undertaken to determine the level of through line and separation of screening tools that are fit for purpose across a plethora of settings (e.g., police custody suite versus prison induction).	Deputy Director, Strategic Development Group in the Strategy, Planning and Performance Directorate	November 2022
			Six Month Update We thoroughly examined the use of screening tools across the CJS and concluded that a consistent approach to identifying need across agencies is necessary to ensure that data can be shared effectively. Instead of a focus on diagnostic criteria, criminal justice agencies should seek to identify what reasonable adjustments can be made to support neurodivergent people at each stage of the process and this information should be accurately stored and shared. However, whilst consistency of approach is necessary, it would be inappropriate to use a single tool universally across all agencies because the time available to identify an individual's needs and the types of reasonable adjustment available will vary at every stage of the system.	Counterpart Deputy Directors responsible for neurodiversity policy at MoJ, DHSC, NPCC, DfE and their agencies.

3	Screening data should be systematically collected and aggregated to provide a more accurate assessment of the prevalence of neurodivergence to inform needs analysis and service planning at all levels of the criminal justice system.	Partly Agreed	We agree with the principle of this recommendation. However, it is partly agreed as it is dependent on the outcome from action two. The Cross Government Working Group and relevant sub-groups will determine to what extent this information is recorded on relevant IT systems, what is the purpose for the collation of data and what can it bring in terms of benefits. We must also identify how to extract current data to provide a more accurate assessment of the prevalence of neurodivergence. As part of the Operational Group all the agencies will work with digital teams to understand whether data can be shared across the inter-departmental IT systems. Considerable progress has already been made on improving the sharing of information regarding neurodivergence. As part of the accelerator prisons project, HMPPS logs neurodivergence within the prisoner's primary record on its management system in four pilot sites. This neurodivergence information, along with other education, skills and work data is presented in one system for the first time - giving clear and easy access to a whole picture of the prisoner, so that appropriate support mechanisms can be put into place. In the Prisons Strategy White Paper, we reiterated the government's commitment to help individuals turn their backs on crime by developing a resettlement passport. The passport will bring together the key information and services to support prison leavers to address their drivers of repeat offending and ensure a smooth transition into the community. We will take a	Counterpart Deputy Directors responsible for Neurodiversity Policy at MoJ, DSHC, NPCC, College of Policing, and Welsh Government Deputy Director, Reducing Reoffending, HMPPS Deputy Director, Reducing Reoffending, HMPPS	November 2022 November 2022 November 2022

		personalised approach to guiding the development of the passport to ensure it adapts to challenges faced by certain groups, such as those prisoners with learning difficulties/disabilities/differences, autism or ADHD. This will move away from a one-size-fits-all approach and towards a more personalised and integrated approach based on the individual needs of the offender. HMPPS will continue to feed into the Operational Group and Cross Government Working Group discussions and will provide an update in the revised action plan after six-months. As mentioned above, to improve the join up of data sharing across the lifespan of a neurodivergent persons journey through the CJS, the operational group will explore at each stage of the CJS, starting with the Police, right through to resettlement back into the community. This information will then be used to update the action plan at the six-month phase.	Deputy Director, Reducing Reoffending, HMPPS Counterpart Deputy Directors responsible for Neurodiversity Policy at MoJ, DSHC, NPCC, CoP, and Welsh Government	November 2022 November 2022
		Six Month Update The Operational Group has examined ways in which we can improve greater join-up and data sharing. At present, screening data is not systematically recorded within police custody and screening is not uniformly conducted as part of the pre-sentence process. We will continue to work across criminal justice agencies to improve these processes. It is mandatory for screening to take place once someone is on probation or coming into prison, although the quality of data is still inconsistent. One key area which we have explored is how training and awareness raising can be utilised to ensure staff know when it is critical to share information regarding neurodivergence between agencies.	Operational Colleagues across all Criminal Justice Agencies

			HMPPS are currently working to explore targeted interventions to ensure data is collected and shared appropriately to inform both the support provided to an individual and service planning. Colleagues in the HMPPS PES are currently exploring existing data reporting pathways and reviewing data availability on the prevalence of neurodivergence within HMPPS and the plans in place to support additional learning needs. By improving data capture methodology, analytical reporting and information sharing, HMPPS are developing a standardised approach to data handling which will improve operational service delivery and help stakeholders to better understand and forecast the needs of the prison population. HMPPS has continued to make progress on the development of Resettlement Passports. A first version is being tested in 5 prisons. This will eventually be replaced by a digital version. This follows engagement with frontline staff, voluntary sector organisations and prisoners.	Deputy Director, Strategic Development Group in the Strategy, Planning and Performance Directorate Deputy Director, Reducing Reoffending, HMPPS Deputy Director of Reducing Reoffending, HMPPS

For frontline staff this learning should be broad-based, mandatory, raise awareness of	Partly Agreed	We fully agree to raising awareness, improving training and encouraging all departments and health, justice and policing agencies to raise awareness amongst their own staff. However, this recommendation is partly agreed, because although all government departments, agencies and the Welsh Government are committed to raising awareness of neurodiversity in the CJS, more mapping is required and will be carried out through the Cross Government Working Group. All departments are to identify what neurodiversity training, if any, they currently promote, what, if any plans they have to deliver training, and establish what	Counterpart Deputy Directors responsible for Neurodiversity Policy at MoJ, DSHC, NPCC, CoP, and Welsh Government	November 2022

	neurodivergent conditions and how they impact on communication and be supported by practical strategies for working with neurodivergent people. More specialised training should be provided for staff whose roles require it. The programme should be developed and delivered in consultation with people who have personal experience of neurodivergence.		opportunities exist to deliver current training packages deploying an inter-departmental approach where appropriate. The MoJ and HMPPS have already started a programme of awareness raising. For example, through the joint HMPPS and NHS England 'What Good Looks Like' Conference held on 1st October 2021. The MoJ will work with HMPPS and NHS England to continue to run subsequent events around this topic. MoJ have already begun running a series of training sessions with policy teams, to ensure consideration of neurodivergent conditions is fully embedded into policy development. In January 2022, Skills for Justice was commissioned by HMPPS to develop an Adult Health, Care and Wellbeing Core Capabilities Framework for Prison and Probation Staff. The framework will comprise core capabilities which describe the knowledge, skills and behaviours required for those who work with vulnerable individuals in custody or detention environments. The framework adopts a person-centred approach to care, which recognises values and builds upon individuality, whether that be neurodivergent or neurotypical. The framework is in the process of being developed with a scheduled end date of 31st March 2022. The MoJ has also committed to a 'National Neurodiversity Training Toolkit' to be rolled out by the end of 2022 to ensure that we comply with the Public Sector Equality Duty. Some base level neurodiversity training has already been implemented as standard for staff within prison and probation. 			Six Month Update Police The Police Working Group, chaired by Assistant Chief Officer Poole, is producing a best practice directory to highlight examples of training, reasonable adjustments and innovations. This directory will be released in early 2023 and will help to raise awareness of neurodivergent conditions and include practical examples of the different types of support that could be provided to improve outcomes for neurodivergent people who come into contact with the CJS. The NPCC are also working closely with the College of Policing to explore the inclusion of neurodiversity guidance in each of the Approved Professional Practice documents, the official source of professional practice for policing. Courts and Sentencing The Judiciary of England and Wales is independent of government. We are aware that, independent of their work, the Judicial College, on behalf of the Lord Chief Justice, has developed training for magistrates and legal advisers. This training highlights fair treatment of people with neurodiverse conditions when they come before the court, referring to relevant sections of the Equal Treatment Bench Book, as well as training on the Sentencing Council Guidelines and on Community Service Treatment Requirements. 5	Adjustments to meet the needs of those with neurodivergent conditions should be made throughout the criminal justice system. Relevant departments and bodies should work together to anticipate needs and make adjustments in anticipation of needs. Simple and largely low-cost changes to create neurodiversity-friendly environments, communications and staff culture are likely to benefit those coming into contact with the criminal justice system, regardless of neurodivergent conditions, and should be made as soon as possible	Partly Agreed	We are fully committed to meeting the needs of neurodivergent people and we aim to ensure the adoption of reasonable and behavioural adjustments through training and awareness raising. However, this recommendation is partly agreed because we are limited in some cases by the physical environments within criminal justice settings. MoJ and its agencies have, and will continue to, develop support for neurodivergent people. With regards to prisons, all prisoners receive a comprehensive health screening within their first week to identify health needs (including a tailored approach to drug treatment). We already have specialist wings, including HMP Parc and HMP Wakefield, which are designed to cater for the needs of neurodivergent individuals. The future prison build programme will be informed by available evidence on design principles. Prisons can also work with the National Autistic Society to achieve Autism Accreditation, during which prisons should consider that prisoners may require adaptations to their environments in order to meet their needs this may be within their current accommodation or in specialist areas where practicable. MoJ are committed to promoting autism accreditation across the estate. Welsh prisons may seek accreditation through the ASD (Autism Spectrum Disorder) Aware scheme, promoted through the National Autism Team. As set out in the Prison Strategy White Paper we committed to introduce Neurodiversity Support	Counterpart Deputy Directors responsible for Neurodiversity Policy at MoJ, DSHC, NPCC and Welsh Government Deputy Director, Reducing Reoffending, HMPPS	November 2022 November 2022

			Managers into prisons; so far we have done this in four prisons. They have put in place improved processes to identify and support prisoners with neurodivergent needs and have shown that much more can be done in this space. For example, tailored provision in prison receptions to help those who are neurodivergent to engage in services at the start of their sentence; introduced neurodiversity awareness raising sessions to upskill staff; and wing champions have been introduced to improve access to education, skills and work and other services. We intend to expand this role further across the prison estate and will provide an update on progress at the six-month review stage. In October 2021, the Community Sentence Treatment Requirements (CSTR's) Programme introduced a Neurodiversity Specialist who can offer clinical expertise of neurodivergent populations for one year funded by the MoJ. An update of the delivery plan will be provided at the six-month point of this action plan. While independent of Government, it should be noted that the Sentencing Council published a new definitive guideline in 2020 for sentencing offenders with mental disorders, developmental disorders and neurological impairments.
