Foreword

Under Section 32(1) of the Energy Act 2004, the Secretary of State must prepare a Statement of the Nuclear Decommissioning Funding Account (the Statement). The Statement for 2022-23 is set out on page 15.

The Nuclear Decommissioning Authority (NDA) is responsible for decommissioning and clean-up of designated civil public sector nuclear sites. The NDA became fully operational as a non-departmental body of the Department of Trade and Industry on 1 April 2005. After subsequent reorganisations and Machinery of Government changes, on 14 July 2016, the Department for Business, Energy and Industrial Strategy was formed, which brought together the business and science portfolios of the Department for Business, Innovation and Skills and the full policy portfolio of the Department of Energy and Climate Change. On 7 February 2023, the government distributed the full policy portfolio of the Department for Business, Energy and Industrial Strategy across four new departments: Department for Energy Security and Net Zero, Department for Business and Trade, the Department for Science, Innovation and Technology and a refocused Department for Culture, Media and Sport. As of February 2023, the NDA is sponsored by the Department for Energy, Security and Net Zero.

In addition to its decommissioning responsibility, the NDA is required to operate existing commercial activities on its sites until current contracts with United Kingdom and overseas customers have been met. The Government is committed to funding the costs of the decommissioning and clean-up of the civil nuclear liabilities arising at the NDA's sites.

The Statement sets out the notional funding available from the Consolidated Fund for use by the NDA during 2022-23 on its activities and the funding that the NDA drew down from the Consolidated Fund during 2022-23. The underlying funding is accounted for within the Consolidated Fund, the Department for Business, Energy and Industrial Strategy's Annual Report and Accounts 2022-23 and the NDA's Annual Report and Accounts 2022-23.
