You requested the following information:

Could you please provide a comprehensive list of all companies that have entered into contracts with your organisation and were required to comply with Procurement Policy Note 06/21 (PPN 06/21) i.e. when the contract value per annum was £5 million or above. Consequently, these companies would have been obligated to publish a relevant Carbon Reduction Plan on their respective websites.

We request clarification and you advised:

I can confirm the request is for active contracts.

Section 21 - Information accessible to applicant by other means.

(1) Information which is reasonably accessible to the applicant otherwise than under section 1 is exempt information.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1)—

(a) information may be reasonably accessible to the applicant even though it is accessible only on payment, and

(b) information is to be taken to be reasonably accessible to the applicant if it is information which the public authority or any other person is obliged by or under any enactment to communicate (otherwise than by making the information available for inspection) to members of the public on request, whether free of charge or on payment.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (1), information which is held by a public authority and does not fall within subsection (2)(b) is not to be regarded as reasonably accessible to the applicant merely because the information is available from the public authority itself on request, unless the information is made available in accordance with the authority's publication scheme and any payment required is specified in, or determined in accordance with, the scheme.

Advice and Assistance

We have a duty to provide advice and assistance in accordance with Section 16 of the FOIA. We can confirm that some of the information has been published on either our gov.uk 'Contracts Finder' or 'Find a Tender' which can be accessed through the below links. In relation to the Homes England Legal Services Framework 2022-2026, we can inform you that we do hold the information that you have requested. However, we rely on section 22, exemption where information is intended for future publication under the FOIA.

The full text of the legislation can be found on the following link and we have quoted section 22 below for ease.

<https://www.legislation.gov.uk/ukpga/2000/36/section/22>

Section 22 - Information intended for future publication.

(1) Information is exempt information if:

- (a) the information is held by the public authority with a view to its publication, by the authority or any other person, at some future date (whether determined or not),

Email: infogov@homesengland.gov.uk

- (b) the information was already held with a view to such publication at the time when the request for information was made, and
- (c) it is reasonable in all the circumstances that the information should be withheld from disclosure until the date referred to in paragraph (a).

(2) The duty to confirm or deny does not arise if, or to the extent that, compliance with section 1(1)(a) would involve the disclosure of any information (whether or not already recorded) which falls within subsection (1).

Section 22 is a qualified exemption. This means that in order to withhold information under this exemption, we must consider the public interest in disclosure.

Public Interest Test – Factors in favour of disclosure

Homes England is compliant with the government agenda of transparency and recognises the benefit of publishing the information, particularly when it concerns how Homes England undertakes its work.

Public Interest Test – Factors in favour of non-disclosure

- The information will be publicly either 'Contracts Finder' or 'Find a Tender'. It is reasonable that a public authority does not divert resources where the information is readily available to the public. To disclose information via FOIA that will be available on our website would increase the likelihood of future requests being made under FOIA for similar publicly available information. This would divert resources away from requests for information that would not otherwise already be in the public domain. This would cause detriment to Homes England's ability to promptly deal with requests under FOIA.
- Releasing the information ahead of scheduled publication is not in line with accepted practices and releasing the information ahead of its scheduled publication date may allow third parties to gain an advantage in obtaining the information prior to general publication.
- As this information is due to be published soon, we consider there is a stronger interest in withholding this information until the intended publication date.

Therefore, after careful consideration we have concluded that at this time, the balance of the public interest favours the non-disclosure.

Discretionary Disclosure

We have enclosed Annex A which contains a list of all suppliers that are already in the public domain with active contracts above £5 million as a discretionary disclosure as finding all the published contracts could prove particularly onerous.
