On: 15 August 2023

Before: Employment Judge Aspinall

Representation

Claimant: in person

Respondent: no attendance, response not received.

JUDGMENT

The claimant's claim for unfair dismissal is well founded and succeeds. She was made redundant by email at 13.24 on 20 February 2023 after 18 years service as a part time bookkeeper. The respondent has not defended the claim, was given notice of the remedy hearing and was copied into the schedule of loss information provided to the tribunal and has chosen not to make representations nor attend.

The claimant's claim for breach of contract notice pay is well founded and succeeds. She was dismissed without notice.

The respondent is ordered to pay to the claimant £ £ 5579.00 made up as follows: (and rounded down to no decimal places)

Basic award of statutory redundancy pay

3years x 1 (under age 41) x £130 gross week's pay
+ 15 years x 1.5 (over age 41) x £ 130 = £ 3315

Compensatory award

Loss of earnings for the one month it would have taken the respondent to carry out a fair dismissal by reason of redundancy £ 4 x £ 130 gross pay = £ 520

Loss of statutory rights after 18 years service = £ 500

Breach of contract notice pay

Capped at maximum 12 weeks statutory notice

12 weeks x £ 103.70 net pay =

Case Number: 2403127/2023

NOTICE

THE EMPLOYMENT TRIBUNALS (INTEREST) ORDER 1990 ARTICLE 12

Case number: 2403127/2023

Name of case: Mrs S Hill v Amazing Glazing
(Widnes) Ltd

Interest is payable when an Employment Tribunal makes an award or determination requiring one party to proceedings to pay a sum of money to another party, apart from sums representing costs or expenses.

No interest is payable if the sum is paid in full within 14 days after the date the Tribunal sent the written record of the decision to the parties. The date the Tribunal sent the written record of the decision to the parties is called the relevant decision day.

Interest starts to accrue from the day immediately after the relevant decision day. That is called the calculation day.

The rate of interest payable is the rate specified in section 17 of the Judgments Act 1838 on the relevant decision day. This is known as the stipulated rate of interest.

The Secretary of the Tribunal is required to give you notice of the relevant decision day, the calculation day, and the stipulated rate of interest in your case. They are as follows:

the relevant decision day in this case is: 30 August 2023

the calculation day in this case is: 31 August 2023

the stipulated rate of interest is: 8% per annum.
