¹ The Bluetongue Regulations 2008 S.I.2008/962 as amended.

Annex 1 – Temporary Control Zone

The Temporary Control Zone (TCZ) comprises those parts of England contained within the black circle of radius 10 kilometres, centered on grid reference TG3967405187. The grid reference is to the Ordnance Survey [Landranger 1:110,000 series]. The zone is the area within the black circle on the map in Annex 2.

Measures in the Temporary Control Zone

1. The measures set out in Article 10(4) of the Regulations apply.
2. Pursuant to Regulation 28, as a derogation from the requirement at point 1 above, dairy cattle may be moved from the location at which they are kept to the milking parlour for milking and returned directly to the place of origin. The movement shall be by foot to and from the regular place of milking used for this herd.

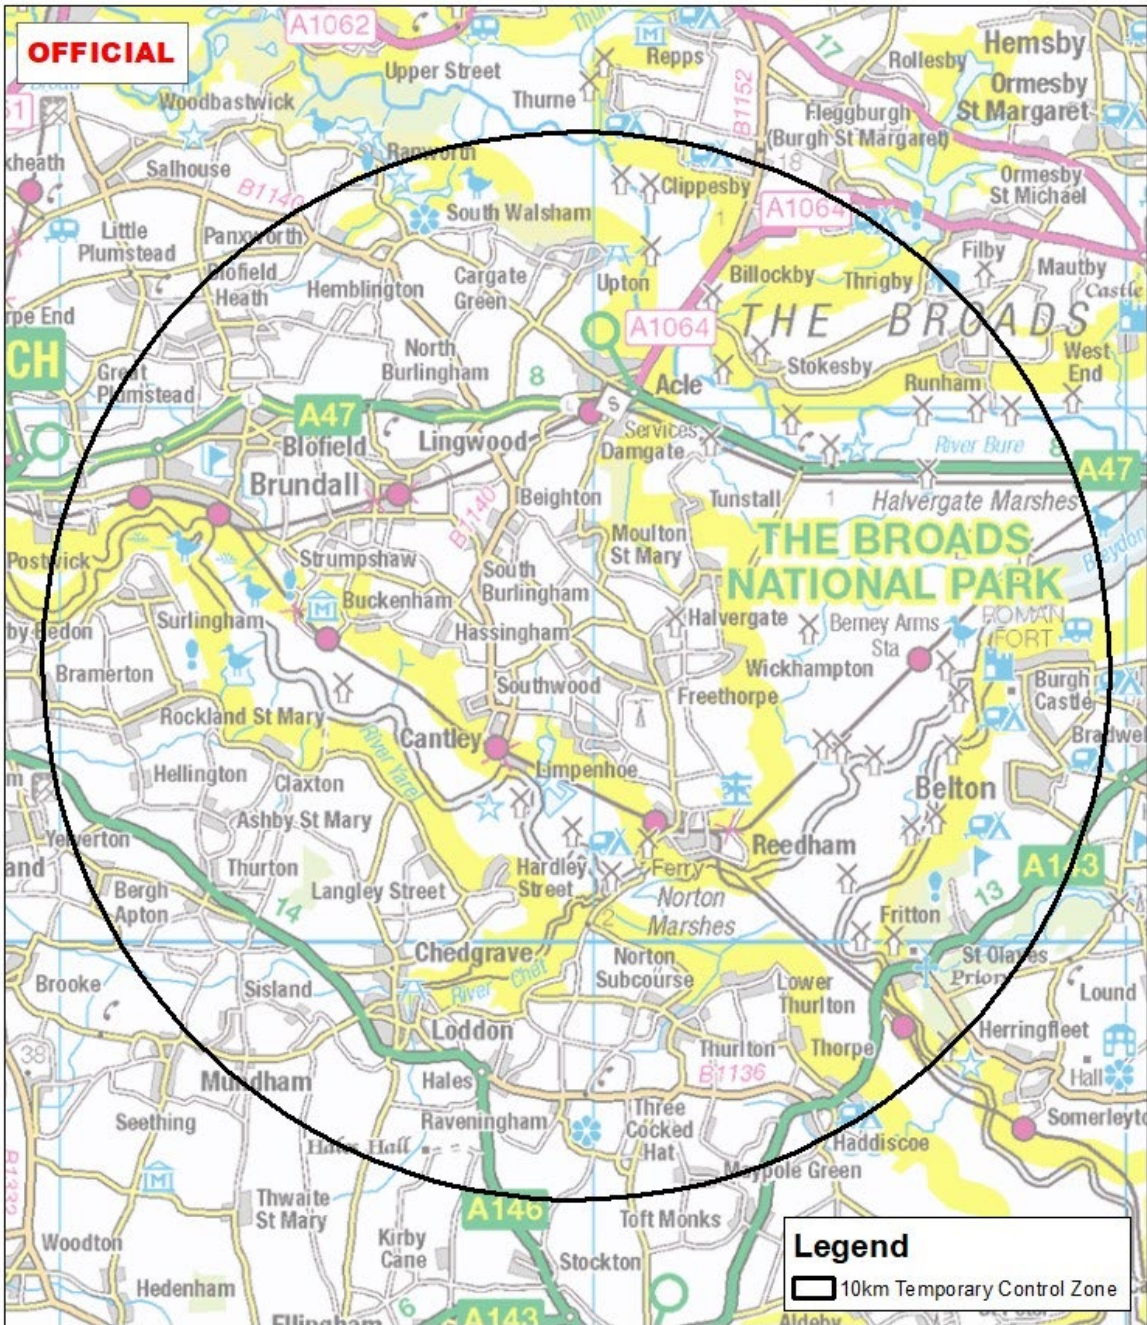

Notes:

1. The “Regulations” are the Bluetongue Regulations 2008 (as amended)²
2. Regulation 10(4): Where a temporary control zone has been established, no person may move any animal on to or off premises in the zone except in accordance with a licence issued by a veterinary inspector.
3. Regulation 7(1): Premises partly inside a temporary control zone and not inside any other zone are treated as being inside the temporary control zone.
4. Regulation 2(1): “animal” means a ruminating animal (and for the purposes of these Regulations all camelids are considered to be ruminating animals) and “carcase”, “embryo”, “ovum” and “semen” mean the carcase, embryo, ovum and semen of such an animal.
 - This means ‘animals’ includes a) all ruminating animals including but not limited to cattle, sheep, goats and deer and b) all camelids including camels, llamas and alpacas. You cannot move these animals without a licence.
 - ‘Carcase’ means a carcase of these animals. There is no restriction on the movement of carcasses.
 - ‘Embryo, ovum and semen’ means the embryo, ovum and semen of such animals. There is no restriction on the movement of carcasses.
