DESIGNATION OF POLLING DISTRICTS AT PARLIAMENTARY ELECTIONS: NORTHERN IRELAND

Section 18AA of the Representation of the People Act 1983 states that every constituency in Northern Ireland is to be divided into polling districts and the Secretary of State must divide Northern Ireland into polling districts for the purposes of parliamentary elections. The Secretary of State must seek to ensure that all electors in Northern Ireland have such reasonable facilities for voting as are practicable in the circumstances. Before dividing Northern Ireland into polling districts the Secretary of State must consult the Electoral Commission and any other appropriate persons.

Previously, in 2014, the then Secretary of State designated the polling districts as the last set of local government wards that were coterminous with the parliamentary boundaries. These were the wards established by the Local Government (Boundaries) Order (Northern Ireland) 1992 before it was revoked.

In accordance with the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 2020, the Boundary Commission for Northern Ireland reviewed the Parliamentary constituency boundaries and submitted its Final Recommendations Report on 27th June 2023. The new constituency boundaries were subsequently brought into force by the Parliamentary Constituencies Order 2023. As part of their review, the Boundary Commission for Northern was required to take into account the local government wards in place at the time of the start of the review, which were the boundaries set in the Local Government (Boundaries) Order (Northern Ireland) 2012. As a result, the new constituency boundaries are no longer coterminous with the polling districts set in 2014 and new polling districts are required.

The Northern Ireland polling districts, designated by the Secretary of State for the purposes of Parliamentary elections conducted on the basis of the constituencies set out in the Parliamentary Constituencies Order 2023, are set out at Annex A. The polling district boundaries listed in Annex A are based on the wards established by the Local Government (Boundaries) Order (Northern Ireland) 2012 and, where the local government ward is not split by a parliamentary constituency boundary, that ward is adopted as a polling district in its entirety. This designation makes no changes to parliamentary constituency boundaries as set out in the Parliamentary Constituencies Order 2023.

As a result of the 2023 Review of Parliamentary Constituencies, 12 wards within Northern Ireland have been split between two separate Parliamentary constituencies, as set out in Annex B. These 12 split wards have been designated into 24 polling districts, reflecting the splits between constituencies and the boundaries as set out in the Parliamentary Constituencies Order 2023

Some of the resulting split ward polling districts are unequal with small electorates. Detailed consultation with the Chief Electoral Officer and his staff, has made clear that this is the approach which is administratively deliverable using the current Electoral Office electoral management system. Due to the limitations of the existing systems it is preferable for parliamentary polling districts to mirror local ward boundaries as closely as possible, introducing as few changes to the existing boundary sets as possible. The introduction of a new electoral management system in the future should allow for a more flexible approach if required.

Following these consultations, given the legislative duty on the Chief Electoral Officer to ensure that all electors in a constituency have reasonable facilities for voting, and the provisions that allow polling places to be shared between polling districts if doing so does not inconvenience voters, the Secretary of State is satisfied that this approach will ensure that there are reasonable facilities for voting.

The Electoral Commission and the Chief Electoral Officer have been consulted on the proposed districts both of which fully support the designated polling districts. Each district shall comprise the area designated on the maps showing the parliamentary constituency boundaries and the wards therein. The maps are held by the Boundary Commission for Northern Ireland and are published online on the Boundary Commission for Northern Ireland website www.boundarycommission.org.uk.

The Secretary of State will keep these polling districts under review, particularly following the introduction of a new Electoral Management System, and any changes to the wards established by the Local Government (Boundaries) Order (Northern Ireland) 2012 brought into force by a restored Northern Ireland Assembly and Executive.

RT HON STEVE BAKER MP

MINISTER OF STATE FOR NORTHERN IRELAND
