Committee on Standards in Public Life

29 January 2024

Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for your request for information on "what policies, publications are available that present to the public how and what the Committee processes does and how it processes such."

The Committee on Standards in Public Life is an independent non-departmental government body which advises the Prime Minister on arrangements for upholding ethical standards of conduct across public life in England.

Our website contains information on the Committee's terms of reference, membership and governance arrangements. The website also contains the complete collection of all our reports and reviews. The Committee also produced a series of videos explaining its function, and how the seven Principles of Public Life apply to all public office holders and public service providers. You may also our blog on the Who's Who? in the Standards world useful.

In addition, the Committee also publishes an annual report. This provides stakeholders and interested parties an overview of our work for the last year. It also summarises the role of the Committee, and how it goes about conducting its work.

If you are dissatisfied with the handling of your request, you have the right to ask for an internal review. Internal review requests should be submitted within two months of the date of receipt of the response to your original letter and should be addressed to:
