Thanks very much [REDACTED] for your quick reply. And in case it is needed for your official approvals, a 'formal' speaker invite will be sent out, likely before the end of this week.

Hello [REDACTED]
Thanks for your email.
I am free on 7th March so I can hold the time in my diary; from a quick search on line I see that 11am EDT is 4pm in the UK. We have to get permission to speak at conferences so that our corporate media team and senior managers are aware of such activities. Now that we have the date for the meeting, I will ask my manager about the approval process.

Hi Becky, [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]
My name is [REDACTED] and I've recently joined Health Canada's medical device team as a [REDACTED] in our Office of Policy and International Programs. I'm following up regarding the Best Brains Exchange (BBE) workshop on breast implant registries that was discussed earlier this fall with my colleagues [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]

Thank you all in advance for your willingness to participate in this event. We have confirmed that the Best Brains Exchange event will be held on March 7th, 2023 from 11am-4pm EDT. I recognize the time zone difference will mean that the event will be in the late afternoon/evening in the UK, but hope that it can still work in your schedules to participate. Formal participant invites will be sent out to each of you in the near future.

In addition, as part of the BBE agenda we're including a panel session on international registries, to hear from speakers involved in setting up & managing registries in other jurisdictions. This would involve short speaker presentations, followed by a Q&A session.

[REDACTED] - Given your role with the Breast and Cosmetic Implant Registry, we would be grateful if you would be a speaker as part of this session, so we can learn more about the UK registry management (and areas such as privacy & data sharing) and it's use for patient safety notifications (if applicable). If you are not available to present on March 7th, or feel another person would be better suited, we would appreciate it if you could let us know. For awareness, formal speaker invitations will be sent shortly by our partners at the Canadian Institute of Health Research, who are supporting us in the event organization.

Please don't hesitate to reach out if you have any questions. We thank you for your interest and look forward to hearing from you.

Best regards,

Hi Becky,

Thanks so much for your interest in this initiative. Please do share the details of our colleagues, as I will put your names forward in the participant list.

We do not have a specific date yet, however, we may be moving the BBE to December/January.

Thanks,

[redacted]

Hi Becky,

That is great, thank you so much for your confirmation. My understanding is that we don't have a date yet but we are tentatively looking at November. My colleague [redacted] is involved in the planning and can provide more details once they're available.

Thanks,

Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for your email regarding breast implant registries. MHRA would be interested in attending- please send an invite to myself, Becky Owen. I will likely bring a further colleague along but will confirm this nearer the time. In addition I have asked colleagues from the Breast and Cosmetic Implant Registry to share their details so they can also be invited.

For information : Breast and Cosmetic Implant Registry - NHS Digital

Do you have a date in mind?

Many thanks

Becky

Hi Johan and Jenifer,

Health Canada is participating in the early stages of planning a potential Best Brains Exchange meeting on breast implant registries, where relevant experts are invited to participate in discussions and share knowledge. Given that the UK has already implemented breast implant registries, we are seeking names of potential meeting participants who may be able to contribute to discussions by providing UK experiences. We are interested in hearing how the registries are managed in the UK in terms of privacy, data sharing, etc. and also notifying patients with implants of issues and safety concerns. These potential participants do not necessarily have to be MHRA staff.

If you have any questions, please let us know.

Thanks,
