Subsistence charges

Most permits attract a subsistence charge for each full or part financial year they are in force. For these permits, the first subsistence invoice will be for a pro rata amount. This amount is usually based on the date we grant the permit, until the end of the financial year.

There are a few exceptions and additions. Please look at the table below and see if any apply to your permit.

If...	then...
your permit states a future start date or requires prior notice to be given	the charge starts from that date instead.
you are a domestic householder or charity and your permit is only for the: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • discharge of sewage effluent; and • the maximum discharge volume is no more than 5 cubic metres per day 	there is no subsistence charge.
your permit is only for mobile plant	there is no subsistence charge. Instead we will charge for each deployment. This does not apply to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • some mobile plant permits that allow the spreading of wastes on land. In these cases both subsistence and deployment charges apply. • mobile specified generator standard rules permit (SR2018 No 8). In these cases there is a fixed subsistence charge, but no separate deployment charge.

If...	then...
your permit is for bespoke medium combustion plant or specified generator(s)	there is no fixed subsistence charge. Instead we will recover costs on a time and materials basis.
Construction work or operation of your facility has yet to start	no subsistence charge is due until activities begin. You should keep your local Environment Agency regulatory officer informed about progress. Please contact our Customer Contact Centre on the number below if you are unable to do this. This does not apply to waste incineration or co-incineration plant, where a fixed pre-construction charge applies your permit is for waste transfer or treatment permit	you will need to pay an one off extra charge of £672 for your first year of operation. This charge covers our additional costs in providing you with advice and support at the start of your operations.
