Subject: RE: FCC Recycling (UK) Limited Appeal- Daneshill Soils Treatment Facility

Hi Kellie

Thanks for your email.

FCC Recycling (UK) Limited have chosen to exercise their rights to appeal the Environment Agency's decision. On 8 June 2023, Environment Agency made a request via the Planning Inspectorate to delay the start date for the appeal and to put the appeal process into abeyance for negotiations to take place between the Environment Agency and FCC Recycling (UK) Limited with the aim of working towards an agreed outcome and therefore to obviate the need for an appeal.

FCC Recycling (UK) Limited declined this request and consequently the appeal process commenced on 14 June 2023.

Consequently, it is not appropriate for Katie Dunmore, or Katie's line manager Beccy Brough, to have discussions with you directly regarding the appeal background or the original Decision Document during the course of a 'live' appeal.

All correspondence is instead being dealt with via our Appeals and Legal teams, and PINS as appropriate, as is standard procedure during live appeals.

Kind Regards
Claire

Afternoon Claire,

I hope you are well – I have still not had any correspondence from Katie or her Team Leader with regards to Daneshill Soils Treatment Facility. Can you advise when they are due to be in touch? It has been nearly 4 months since.

Kind Regards

Hi Kellie

As this was determined within the Installations regime, I've forwarded it on to the determining officer (who I believe was Katie Dunmore) and her team leader to respond to you directly.

Thanks
Claire

Subject: FCC Recycling (UK) Limited Appeal- Daneshill Soils Treatment Facility

Good Morning Claire,

I would like to notify the Environment Agency of an appeal which is being submitted by Freeths LLP on behalf of FCC Recycling (UK) Limited in relation to appealing the Environment Agency's refusal of an application to vary environmental permit reference EPR/NP3538MF to allow the treatment of asbestos contaminated soils at Daneshill Landfill Site. The 'Grounds of Appeal' will shortly be submitted today.

In light of this, we would like to engage in a meeting to discuss background of the appeal with yourself, could you let me know your availability please? I have attached the EA's decision document relating to the details of the application.

Kind Regards

Kellie-Marie Burston – Planning and Permitting Manager (North)
