Questions to address in letters of support for T Level Foundation Qualifications

We require education and training institutions to address the following questions, as a minimum, in their letters of support for your qualification. These could be the same letters you are submitting to provide evidence of demand for the qualification, or include additional letters from other institutions you involved in developing the qualification.

Where an institution is providing support for more than one of your T Level Foundation Qualifications, the letter should address the questions for each qualification separately and clearly state why the institution specifically supports each qualification.

Questions

1. Which specific qualification(s) are you supporting in the letter? Please include the full title of each qualification.
2. Do you plan to deliver this qualification from September 2026?
3. Why, specifically, do you support the qualification for delivery in the T Level Foundation Year? (200 words max).
4. How does the qualification support holistic preparation for T Levels in the relevant route? (200 words max).
5. Do you have any other comments you would like to make in support of this qualification? (100 words max)
6. Do you have the authority to confirm the contents on behalf of your institution?
