Applying on behalf of someone else

If you are applying on behalf of someone else, such as a relative, you will need to supply your information, not the information of the person you are applying on behalf of.

You do not need to supply identity evidence information for the people you act for. However, you must make it clear who you are acting for.

Your application will not be accepted unless you have provided documentary evidence for the person you are acting for that demonstrates you are entitled to act for them. This could be a written, signed consent or some other form of documentary evidence such as a power of attorney or court order.

Data protection

HM Land Registry complies with the requirements of UK Data Protection legislation. It may retain and share information with:

- other government departments,
- law enforcement and regulatory bodies including specified anti-fraud organisations under section 68 of the Serious Crime Act 2007.

This helps to prevent and detect crime such as property fraud.

For more information on how HM Land Registry uses personal data see our Personal Information Charter.

The information in this form and in any supporting evidence won't be available to the public. For more information see rule 133 (inspection and copying) of the Land Registration Rules 2003 on GOV.UK. This is because, under rule 133 of the Land Registration Rules 2003, such information is excepted from the public right of inspection.
