INFORMATION NOTE:

NATIONALITY – CONFIRMATION OF BRITISH NATIONALITY

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

The British Consulate-General, Hong Kong is not able to confirm definitively whether anyone is a British National. Although possession of a valid British passport should be sufficient for most purposes to demonstrate British nationality, it is not prima facie evidence of nationality.

Anyone who does not hold a British passport can apply for a Confirmation of British Nationality Status certificate from UK Visas and Immigration at:

<https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/application-for-confirmation-of-british-nationality-status-form-ns>.

This information contained in this Note is general and should not be taken as a definitive statement of law.
