You can apply for Disabled Students' Allowance (DSA) if you have a disability which meets the definition of a disability under the Equality Act 2010, including a:

- long-term health condition;
- mental health condition;

DSA is paid separately from any other student finance. It helps you pay the extra costs you may have because of your disability. It doesn't have to be repaid. How much you get depends on your individual needs.

It's important you read the following 6 things before applying for a Postgraduate Master's Loan.

1. You can only get one Postgraduate Master's Loan. If you've received any funding towards a postgraduate master's degree before, you're not eligible to apply unless you can prove that you did not complete your previous course due to a compelling personal reason.
2. You can apply for a loan of up to £12,471. Your loan will be split evenly over the length of your course and you'll get 3 payments for each academic year. This will be paid directly into your bank account.
3. You'll be charged interest on your loan from the day you get your first payment. This will continue until you've fully repaid your loan or your loan is cancelled after 30 years – whichever comes first.
4. Your interest rate is made up of the Retail Price Index plus 3%. In the future this could go up or down.
5. You'll have to repay the loan, but only when you've left University and your income is over £21,000 a year.
6. You'll repay 6% of your income per year (over £21,000) towards your Postgraduate Master's Loan. This will need to be repaid at the same time as any other student loans you may have.

Your information

The information you give during the application process will be used to assess your entitlement to student finance. It is your responsibility to ensure the information is correct. It is an offence to knowingly provide false information in this application.
