

CCTA response to CMA Notice of Intention to Vary the Home Credit Market Investigation Order 2007

To whom it may concern,

We write in relation to the CMA's Review of Part 3, Article 29 and Part 1 of Schedule 4 of the Home Credit Market Investigation Order 2007 and its Final Decision and Notice of Intention to Vary.

We are the Consumer Credit Trade Association (CCTA) and we represent alternative lenders in the consumer credit space. This includes home collected credit firms, who are subject to the Home Credit Order.

We have previously responded to the Invitation to Comment and the Consultation on the Review of Part 3 of the Order.

We write to confirm that we agree with the CMA's Final Decision on the removal of the price comparison website and Notice of Intention to Vary the order. We look forward to this being implemented.

Many thanks,
